GIANT LINER LEVIATHAN IS STRANDED!

STORE SPACE GROWS AT PENDROY'S

Part of Citizens' Building Secured for Use of Dry Goods Co.

By the terms of a lease negotiated yesterday afternoon between Earle C. Pendroy and the owners of the Citizens' building at 150 South Brand boulevard, through Burton McGinnis, the Pendroy Dry Goods company, whose three-story building occupies the corner immediately south, takes possession of the east half of the second floor of the Citizens' building, and workmen are busy this morning converting the new space into a suitable annex, to connect with the main store through an archway.

This move is announced by Mr. Pendroy, president of the company that bears his name, as an essential move in order to accommodate his growing business and the first step in a comprehensive plan of expansion. Several new departments will be added, he states, the annex being ready for occupancy shortly after the first of the year.

Entrance Via Store

The present cloak room, banquet hall and kitchen are to be supplanted by the alterations, and the entrance from the stairs at 150 South Brand boulevard will be sealed off, thus making the only approach to the annex through Pendroy's main store.

"So greatly has my faith in Glendale been justified," says Mr. Pendroy in commenting on the expansion, "that it became a question with me of how best to accommodate my growing business. The solution of annexing a part of the Citizens' building was carefully thought out and seems likely to offer a temporary relief that will be in line with future plans."

SOLDIERS' BONUS AWAITS CONGRESS

Advocates of Measure Draw Battle Lines In Plan For New Campaign

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The soldier bonus bill will be thrust before the house immediately after congress convenes January 2, according to plans matured today by bonus advocates.

Unless the ways and means committee is ready to begin consideration of the McKenzie bill, which is backed by the American Legion, a Republican conference will be forced and this conference will instruct the committee to bring out the bonus, bonus advocates said today.

Republican Leader Longworth expects the ways and means committee to finish its study of the administration and simplification of the features of the tax law early in January. Committee members said today they had made progress with consideration of this legislation and had found little in the recommendations of Secretary Mellon is such a controversial character as to necessitate lengthy controversy. Compromises in the bonus legislation are being sought.

REPORT POST SOLD

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Sale of the New York Evening Post to Cyrus H. Curtis of Philadelphia, owner of the Saturday Evening Post, the Ladies' Home Journal, the Country Gentleman and the Philadelphia Morning and Evening Ledger, is announced in the current issue of Editor and Publisher, which will be distributed today. Editor and Publisher said the consideration was between $1,600,000 and $1,800,000 and that Curtis would take charge of the New York paper immediately.

QUEZON DEFEATED

MANILA, Dec. 21.—For the first time in the history of the Filipino senate, Manuel Quezon, coalition leader, was overridden when that body passed a fifty-year electric franchise in the city of Iloilo, controlled by Senator Osena. Quezon urged reduction of the franchise term to twenty years. The legislature adjourned until January 7 without passing the budget. Governor-General returning from Java wirelessed he would arrive Saturday morning.

Death Crash at Long Beach Will Be Investigated

LONG BEACH, Dec. 21.—An investigation, which may lead to the drafting of drastic regulations for the operation of roller coasters, was launched here today following a crash on the Jackrabbit racer last night, which cost the life of one person and injured sixteen others, one perhaps fatally.

The man who died from injuries received in the accident is T. A. Belliot, 20, a sailor from the U. S. S. California, who is declared to have tried to leap from one fast moving car on the coaster to the other.

URGES KIWANIANS TO BOOST SEWER

Hewitt Appeals for Support FOR $1,600,000 Issue of Bonds on Jan. 8

Devoting the program to a discussion of the sewer bond issue, members of the Kiwanis club were given first-hand information on this subject at their regular weekly luncheon at the Tuesday Afternoon club today noon. Lyman P. Clark, past president, was chairman of the luncheon.

Before introducing the speakers Mr. Clark voiced a warning not only to the Kiwanians but to every Glendale citizen not to go forward with the belief that the bond issue will go over without a lot of hard work on their part. He said that, although there is apparently no great amount of open opposition to the bond issue, there is a great deal on the quiet. Propaganda of all kinds, he said, is being disseminated throughout the community.

As an instance, he pointed out that opposers to the bonds are approaching voters with the remark: "Well, you don't want to pay Los Angeles $1,600,000, do you?" He added that this is merely a weak argument being used against the sewer bonds.

E. P. Hayward, one of the speakers, announced, on behalf of the Glendale Realty Board, that his organization had appointed twenty-eight captains to canvass every precinct and home in the city in behalf of the bonds.

Build 2000 Cesspools

Calling attention to the fact that within the last year 2000 cesspools were built in Glendale, W. E. Hewitt, president of the Chamber of Commerce, made an appeal for support of the bond issue. This is an expense, he said, that is entirely unnecessary, and it will be only a comparatively short time until the city will be completely covered with cesspools. This is the only cloud to mar the sanitary conditions in Glendale, he said.

Chester A. Smith, engineer for Burns & McDonnell, engineers for the sewer project, explained with charts and maps the proposed line of construction for the sewer. He also called attention to the fact that the sewer, as now planned, would have sufficient capacity to care for at least 1,000,000 people, and that it would be adequate for forty or fifty years.

Councilman Sam Davis also spoke in favor of the bonds, urging support and co-operation in the coming election.

The Christmas spirit was manifest at the luncheon when the Kiwanians presented a bicycle to Edwin Rapier, little 12-year-old newsboy, who makes his own living and helps support his family.

Attendance prizes were awarded to Dr. Jack Anderson, Miller Towman and "Bill" Truitt.

Accident Victim Is Rushed to Hospital

Frank Askew of the Glendale Realty company, 131½ South Brand boulevard, played the part of the Good Samaritan late yesterday afternoon, rushing to the Los Angeles Receiving hospital, in his car, a Southern Pacific brakeman named Primrose, who was injured at the Glendale tower on South Brand boulevard, when struck in the head by a piece of lumber protruding from a passing train.

READY FOR CHRISTMAS

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21.—Earl C. Moore was arrested late today by dry officers for evading the prohibition laws after they are said to have discovered thirty-nine cases of liquor in the garage of his home at Benton way and Marathon streets. Nineteen of the cases were hidden in cupboards. The other fifteen cases were packed in the tonneau of a $3,000 automobile. Moore was arrested last week on a similar charge and was at liberty on bail.

MAIL ROUTE EXTENDED 4 MILES

Service In Northwest Part Of City Takes Effect On January 1st

Extension of rural free delivery Route No. 2, covering an additional four miles of Glendale streets, is announced today by Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson, following the receipt of the authorization for the proposed changes from the postal authorities in Washington, D. C. The new arrangement goes into effect on January 1, 1924.

Postmaster Jackson and Assistant Postmaster George Hallett have been working on the plans to extend Route 2 for several months, completing their schedule and sending in to Washington several weeks ago and receiving the official approval of their recommendations within six weeks after they had been forwarded.

Growth of Population

The extension of this route was made necessary by the growth of the population in the district embraced in the additional territory now included under the new ruling, and Postmaster Jackson is also working out plans for the improvement of the carrier system in other sections of Glendale, which will, he hopes, be put into effect in the near future. Among the projects on which he is working is a plan to expedite the delivery of mail in the business district, in order that the business firms may receive their mail at the earliest possible time each morning.

Within the next week or two box numbers will be assigned to the residents in the territory embraced in the extension of Route 2.

URGE VENIZELOS TO RULE GREECE

Return of Exiled Premier Is Sought by Leaders of Athens Rebellion

ATHENS, Dec. 21.—Premier Gounatas declared today that all indications point to the return of former Premier Eleutherios Venizelos to assume leadership of Greek affairs.

The republicans are opposing Venizelos' return, fearing he would recall King George. Republican leaders insist upon the immediate creation of a republican government.

The army and navy officers who signed a protocol demanding the withdrawal of King George, reinforced by sixty members of the chamber of deputies, have signed a request that Colonel Plastiras, head of the Greek revolutionary committee, "urgently recall former Premier Venizelos from Paris."

The ex-premier has been living in Paris since the conclusion of the Near East peace conference. Members of the Liberal party are attempting to persuade leaders of other groups to join in an invitation to Venizelos.

EDITOR IS DEAD

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Frank I. Cobb, editor of the New York Morning World, one of the most widely known newspapermen in the United States, died at his home here yesterday. The announcement by his family did not state the cause of death.

Mrs. Violet George Wins First Prize In Evening News Circulation Drive

By J. A. MALCOLM
Salesmanship Club Manager

The big salesmanship campaign and greater circulation drive of The Glendale Evening News came to a close last night and great was the closing. Subscriptions poured in from every part of the country and the credits ran into the millions. Mrs. Violet George won the grand capital prize, the $2250 building lot located in Sparr Heights, with more than two and a half million credits.

Mrs. W. Stinson was second with more than two million credits and won the $1500 building lot located in Oakmont Heights. Mrs. L. M. Board was third and won the Nash touring car, and Mrs. E. Newman was fourth and won the Maxwell touring car. A complete list of the winners, together with the official count of the judges, is printed on this page.

The campaign has been a big success from every standpoint. The Glendale Evening News has added hundreds of new subscriptions to its already large family of readers and every one of the workers in the campaign will be well repaid for the time and effort spent, either with a prize or cash commission. The campaign was conducted exactly as advertised at the start and there were no extra offers made of special credits other than the one advertised at the start of the campaign and it is a known fact that the workers won strictly on their merits.

The Glendale Evening News wishes to thank each and every one of the club members for their splendid work during the campaign and believes that each one was well repaid for the effort and time spent in getting the subscriptions.

The Glendale Evening News also wishes to thank each of the gentlemen who acted as judges and made the final counting of the credits. In conclusion we also wish to thank every one of the people who subscribed to The Glendale Evening News and helped their favorites to win.

The five judges in the campaign made a careful check of the figures and submitted the following:

We, the undersigned judges in The Glendale Evening News Salesmanship campaign, after a careful counting of the subscriptions and credits found in the sealed ballot box and adding same to the printed standing in the paper, hereby declare the following to be correct to the best of our knowledge and belief.

A radiogram from a coastwise vessel said that detachments of revolutionaries under General Ferrara and General Vega had opened attack against the federals defending the port of Hermosa in the state of Tabasco.

In the five-hour fight yesterday in the Pueblo region the federal losses were put at 104 killed and wounded, and the revolutionary losses eighteen killed and twenty-two wounded.

FRESH START IN TUCKER ROMANCE

Youthful Groom and Bride of 48 Are Re-Married In North Carolina

SOUTHERN PINES, N. C., Dec. 21.—Seventeen-year-old Burton S. Tucker, and his 48-year-old bride, now under indictment in New Jersey for violation of the state marriage laws, left here today on their second honeymoon after being re-married late yesterday at Carthage, N. C.

The Tuckers arrived here several days ago and when questioned declared they were "honeymooning" and that they would not leave until they got "good and ready." They would make no statement as to their alleged conspiracy to violate the state marriage laws of New Jersey.

Driving into Carthage in their car late yesterday they procured a license when Mrs. Tucker put up $200 to indemnify Register of Deeds Matheson against prosecution or impeachment for issuing a license to persons under 18 years old. Tucker gave his age as 17. The woman gave her name as Susan Simpson and her age as 48.

The second marriage ceremony was performed by Squire Jesse Fry in the law offices of Union L. Spence. As soon as the ceremony was performed the couple left Carthage, exclaiming: "We are off on our second honeymoon."

Mexican Federalists Plan Coup on Rebels

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 21, via Laredo, Texas.—Federal troops are preparing for a concentrated attack against the rebels in the states of Vera Cruz, Jalisco and Queretaro, according to information received in war office circles today.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21.—Taking advantage of the absence of Rev. Gustav Briegleb, incendiaries last night attempted to burn his residence in North Serrano avenue, by starting a fire in a garage in the rear of the residence, according to a report to the police today. Damage estimated at $300 is said to have been done.

TEN MILLIONS NEARING IN BUILDING

Every Indication High Mark Will Be Reached By Close of Year

A rush of business at the office of H. C. Vandewater, municipal building superintendent, this morning totaled over $50,000 before noon, and at that hour it was reported that approximately all that was needed to reach the ten million dollar mark was $143,000.

Deducting Sundays, holidays and Saturday half days, there are still six and one-half business days in this month, and the goal set at the first of the year is assured. The total for December stood at $583,659 at the close of business last night. Up to that time there had been sixteen complete business days when the office had been open. This gives an average of $36,478 per day for December. Assuming this average will be maintained, if not exceeded, the total December 31st will be $10,042,925.

Ahead of Average

This is figured on the basis of six and one-half days remaining in December with the volume of business practically the same as the first part of the month, but it is acknowledged that it will be in excess of the average, as many will take out permits just prior to the New Year.

"When I predicted that building permits in Glendale would reach $10,000,000 for the current year, on January 1, many people thought I was exaggerating. But we are there, or so near that it is an assured fact.

"What will they be next year? Ah, that's another question."

The largest permit issued this morning was to Mrs. Elizabeth Aiple, for a thirty-six apartment court, to be erected at 230-236 South Adams street, costing $27,500.

RECOGNITION OF SOVIET IS ISSUE

Congress to Vote After Probe Of Reds' Activities In United States

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The United States senate probably will have an opportunity to vote on the question of whether soviet Russia shall be recognized.

This was the outstanding development today in the latest cleavage between the state department and the so-called insurgent Progressive group in the senate. The vote, which will probably see party lines badly split, will be preceded by a thorough investigation of the whole Russian situation, with particular emphasis laid on just what Moscow is doing to spread the doctrine of communism in the United States.

"I have promised Senator Borah that the foreign relations committee will fully consider the Russian question," Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, the committee chairman, said today. The investigation will be in the open, it is said.

CHINESE UNIONS THREATEN STRIKE

Canton Laborers May Tie Up Shipping If Foreign Warships Remain

SHANGHAI, Dec. 21.—Chinese labor unions at Canton this afternoon threatened a general port strike which would tie up shipping and adjourn business unless the foreign warships lying off Shameen island withdraw.

American, English and French warships are anchored off Canton and Dr. Sun Yat Sen, leader of the South China Republican forces in Canton, has been warned against any attempt to seize the customs house or customs revenue.

The presence of the international war fleet is said to have aroused high anti-foreign feeling.

SUBPOENA ISSUED

CHICAGO, Dec. 21. — Joseph Fleming, counsel for the receivers of Leo Koretz' estate, has announced that a subpoena had been issued for Luis Groilman, a lawyer who Fleming said had offered to disclose the whereabouts of the missing financier for $25,000. SHIPPING BOARD SHAKE-UP LOOMS

Coolidge to Select His Own Man for Chairmanship, Report Declares

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The United States shipping board, bone of political contention since it was first created, away back in the early days of the war, probably will be entirely remade by President Coolidge in the next few weeks, it was learned at the White House today.

As soon as the senate formally refuses to approve the nomination of Edward P. Farley of Chicago, the present chairman, as now seems certain, President Coolidge will nominate his "own man" for the post, it was said.

Alleged Home Wrecker Is Shot By Husband

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—M. Theodore Loosvelt shot his fellow worker, Harold Logerquist, six times and probably mortally wounded him today after Loosvelt's wife had confessed unfaithfulness and had named Logerquist. She is the mother of five children.

Loosvelt approached Logerquist when the latter appeared for work, drew a revolver and emptied the chamber at him. Then the husband walked leisurely away in search of a policeman, to whom he said:

"I've just shot a dog."

Resents Presence of War Craft In China

SHANGHAI, Dec. 21.—Dr. Sun is understood to have sent a cablegram to Ramsay MacDonald, head of the British labor party, asking him to protest to British workers against the presence of international warships at Canton.

Dr. Sun declared "this force is threatening my government with war." He alleged that the foreign diplomats at Peking were responsible for the gathering of the fleet at Canton.

DEATH LIST GROWS

BOGOTA, Colombia, Dec. 21.—Reports received today from relief workers showed that the loss of life and destruction of property in the earthquake zone along the Colombian-Ecuadorian frontier were much heavier than originally reported. The loss of life is put at about 3000. Hundreds were injured and there are about 20,000 homeless, according to these reports.

OCEAN QUEEN CAUGHT ON MUD BANK

Passengers Taken Off By Municipal Ferryboat After Long Delay

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. — Stranded in the harbor, mud bound, the proud Leviathan, queen of the seas, floundered hopelessly this afternoon with little hope of relief until the tide comes in again at 8 o'clock tonight.

The giant American liner, the biggest ship afloat, grounded off Robbins reef as it crept into the harbor this morning, enveloped in a thick, damp fog that put the pilot off his course.

As she grounded, her sirens brought tugs to her aid, but they tugged and nosed without avail and the Leviathan sank deeper into the mud, listing slightly. Her 1600 passengers crowded the rails, watching the vain efforts of the powerful little tugboats.

On Way to Record

It was the Leviathan's last trip of the season. She was well on her way to a crossing record when the fog off the coast slowed her down.

Many of the impatient passengers wanted to be put on harbor boats and taken ashore, but Captain Hartley refused permission, declaring it would be too dangerous.

At 2 o'clock it was decided to take the passengers off the stranded liner on one of the municipal ferryboats.

As the tide fell the stern of the vessel dropped while the prow remained fastened to the mudbank.

Giant Liner Goes Upon Mud Flats This Morning

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—The giant liner Leviathan went aground off Robins reef this morning.

The liner was inbound to her pier. She sounded her siren for help as soon as she lost sea-way and a score of tugs went to her assistance.

Some of the tugs, with tow lines, tried to drag her off the reef while others nosed at her bow.

The ship is in no immediate danger. Her passengers crowded the decks as tugs worked to free her.

May Wait High Tide

The tide was due to reach its lowest ebb at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Efforts were made to clear the giant liner before that time. If it is not floated before then it was considered probable it must remain until high tide at 7 o'clock tonight.

A heavy fog was believed to have caused the ship to get off its course. There were no reports indicating the extent of the damage to the Leviathan but marine men said the spot where she grounded was a mud flat and that the ship was in no danger of going on the rocks of Robins reef.

Byrkit, former residents of Belmont street, but now living at 365 West Thirty-Sixth street, Los Angeles, celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary with a social affair last night. Among the twenty-five guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Blackburn and Miss Mary Blackburn of Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Rowe of 216 South Orange street, are entertaining with a Christmas party tomorrow night the members of the Mispah class of the First Baptist church and their husbands and escorts. Miss Nellie Howe, a student at the University of Redlands, is home for the holidays.

H. Nicolai, proprietor of the Valley market on South Brand boulevard, made a trip by motor this week to his ranch in the north and brought back a supply of turkeys for the Christmas market. He encountered extremely cold weather and, after leaving the San Joaquin valley to make the trip into the mountains, near Delano, he traveled sixty miles through snow before reaching his destination.

Social Events

Shrine Affair

A happy holiday celebration is to be participated in tonight by members of Omar Shrine, White Shrine of Jerusalem, meeting in the Masonic temple on South Barnd boulevard.

Mrs. Evelyn G. Pierce, worthy high priestess, appointed Mrs. Maude Smith and Mrs. Libby Cutting as general chairman of arrangements for this Christmas party and they and their assistants have spared no time or work in carrying out most elaborate plans.

The first event of the evening will be a short business meeting of the Shrine. Following this, members and guests will gather in the banquet hall downstairs about a beautiful Christmas tree.

"The Night Before Christmas" is the title of a playlet that will entertain. Those taking part are Mesdames Libby Cutting, Sara Leland, Evelyn G. Pierce, Luella Emerick, Mae Warrick, Grace Brown, Maude Smith, Grace Jackson, Nana Custer, Mina Wenzell, Miss Ethel Parsons, Eleanor and George Marek, Kathleen Custer, Grace Anna Jackson, Dorothy Bourne, Ruth Reed, Mary Emerick and D. Ripley Jackson, E. Emerick, Ralph Brown and Alvah Leland.

Mr. Leland is to be the special representative of Santa Claus, portraying him in the playlet and presiding over festivities around the tree.

An interesting feature of the later part of the evening will be holiday refreshments, with Mrs. Maude Smith presiding over a birthday table.

The real spirit of giving has not been overlooked in plans for the affair, for barrels are to be located by the door and all attending are asked to bring donations of clothing and food for welfare work.

Assisting Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Cutting are Mrs. Edith Richardson, chairman of refreshments; Mrs. Constance Bourne, tree and decorations; Mrs. Sara Leland, gifts; Mrs. Nana Custer, table decorations; Mrs. Mae Warrick and Hattie Ellis, visiting.

Through the visiting committee the Shrine has attempted to get in touch with all the members who have not attended the meetings recently.

Drama Club Meets

The Emerson Dramatic club which has just recently been organized, held its first social meeting at the Emerson School of Self-Expression last night.

During the early part of the evening a short business session was held when the organization was perfected, constitution adopted and officers elected, as follows: Mrs. R. W. Cleghorn, business manager; Mrs. Della May Butler and Marie Walsh, assistant directors; Helen Page, prompter; Marie Walsh, wardrobe mistress. At this time two new members were admitted to the club. They are George and Gerald Page.

The program and social hour was in charge of Mesdames Butler and Rhodes.

All the members came attired in old-fashioned children's costumes and each recited a child's poem or verse. Children's games and contests were also enjoyed and caused considerable merriment.

Mrs. Evelyn S. Labadie gave several readings after the serving of refreshments.

This proved to be a most enjoyable evening, and it was decided to hold a social meeting every month.

Holiday Dance

The members of the Glendale Canadian club were entertained last night at the Knights of Pythias hall by the young people of the organization with a jolly dance and Christmas party.

The hall was beautifully decorated with evergreens, English ivy and graceful pepper boughs. Red paper Christmas bells were also used effectively in the scheme of decoration.

Music for the evening was furnished by the Kelly Shrine club orchestra. The committee in charge of the arrangements included Al Western, Albert Jones and Hugh Lizie.

Late in the evening a course of refreshments of sandwiches, coffee and cake were served the seventy-five couples present. Altogether this proved to be one of the most enjoyable affairs given by the Canadian club.

Thursday Club

Reports on Christmas activities were of interest to members of the Thursday Afternoon club meeting yesterday in the Knights of Pythias hall on South Brand boulevard.

Mrs. E. V. Bacon, club president, was in charge of the meeting, during which Mrs. Chauncey K. Lake, chairman of ways and means, reported that $100 was realized on the recent Christmas sale and will be applied on the building fund.

Another announcement was that Mrs. M. P. Moberly had made a contribution of $50 through the club's philanthropy committee to the Florence Crittenden home.

Mrs. A. J. Morgan, president of the Glendale auxiliary of the Children's hospital, reported that she and Mrs. Bacon and Mrs. Moberly motored to Los Angeles yesterday morning, taking to the hospital twenty-three new garments, thirty-four and a half quarts of fruit, thirty glasses of jelly, nine cans of vegetables and a box of apples.

Mother's Birthday

Inspiration for an enjoyable affair given yesterday by Mrs. W. H. Loucks at her home, 308 East California, was the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Loucks' mother, Mrs. Mary A. Everett, who is 83 years old.

Christmas decorations were artistically used in the rooms of the Loucks home. A beautiful birthday cake with 83 candles formed the center piece of the refreshment table. Yuletide colors were also used in the table appointments and favors.

Those present were Mrs. Mary A. Everett, the honoree, and Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Lampman, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bullard, and Mrs. Mollie Hurst.

Honor Officer

Mrs. James Strother, district deputy of the Rebekah lodge and past noble grand of the Carnation lodge of Glendale, was happily surprised last night when a group of thirty-five lodge friends arrived at her home at 333 West California avenue for a birthday surprise.

An informal social time was enjoyed and Mrs. Strother was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Ask 'Inspector' Jobs For 80 Traffic Cops

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 21.—Declaring that the state highway from Sacramento down the San Joaquin valley to Los Angeles is practically wide open to speeders, since the state traffic officers have been laid off owing to the decision of the courts that their appointment is illegal, Will H. Marsh, chief of the division of motor vehicles has made application to the state board of control for permission to transfer eighty motorcycle traffic officers, working out of his office as "inspectors."

It is understood that the control board has given its consent, but final action depends upon State Controller Ray L. Riley, who passes upon salary warrants.

Two weeks ago, ninety-five speed officers were laid off as a result of the decision of the appellate court that the Breed motor vehicle act, under which they were employed, was illegal.

Hunter Is Sentenced On Game Law Charge

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 21. — When M. C. Lamb appeared in this city with fifty-three ducks in his possession, Game Warden W. J. Green was flabbergasted. Recovering his equanimity, he arrested Lamb for violation of the game laws.

The court sentenced Lamb to sixty days in the county jail, but Lamb's continued protestations that three other hunters had contributed to the kill, finally secured for him suspension of sentence on condition that he does not appear again with half a hundred ducks in his possession.

Wind Blows Car Into River, Owner Sleeps

NAPA, Dec. 21.—When R. J. Wilson left his car on Cutting wharf, a few miles down the river, and awoke from a sound night's rest the following morning, his machine was not in evidence.

Looking out on the river, Wilson saw his auto standing on end almost amid-stream. He had slept so soundly that not even the strong north wind which had lifted his machine from the wharf and deposited it in the river, had awakened him.

The machine was recovered practically undamaged.

Three hundred gallons of ice cream, 700 loaves of bread and 16,000 rolls are served each day by one New York hotel.

New Highway Bridge To Expedite Traffic

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 21.—The plans and location of the proposed Dumberton highway bridge, which will open up San Francisco's eastern gateway and expedite the flow of traffic to and from the upper San Joaquin valley, have been formally approved by the state highway commission, according to W. F. Mixon, secretary of the commission.

The $2,000,000 structure will open the narrowest part of lower San Francisco bay, from a point opposite Redwood City, in San Mateo county, to a point opposite Newark, in Alameda county, according to plans submitted to the highway board.

Approval of plans and specifications for the bridge also has been given by the United States war department, and actual construction is expected to start early next year.

'SMILIN' THROUGH' TOUCHES HEARTS

Royal Stock Co's Offering Is Classic That Retains Its Youthfulness

"Smilin' Through," now being presented nightly at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre, appears to be one of those classics of the stage that never grow old. Although a strictly modern play, just fresh from a long run in New York with Jane Cowl in the lead, it has already endeared itself to a wide public by its tug on the heart-strings.

Splendidly presented by the Royal Stock company, who have leased the theatre for the season and will give a different play each week, "Smilin' Through" will be seen just three more times in Glendale—tonight, Saturday afternoon and Saturday night.

Story of Love

"It's a great story of undying love," says Charles E. Royal, manager of these talented players. "Not being in the cast myself, I have had an opportunity to watch the audiences and have seen them moved from laughter to tears and back to laughter again at the beautiful closing scene. We chose to present 'Smilin' Through' as our initial offering in Glendale just because it is so warm and human, and our judgment has not been wrong."

Tonight's performance starts at 8:20 o'clock sharp, tomorrow's matinee being at 2:30 o'clock.

Persians excelled in the use of blues, Turkomans of Turkestan and Asia Minor produced better reds than any other color, and the best yellows for rug weaving were those of the Chinese.

Threatens With Gun In Accosting Women

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 21.—Police authorities are conducting a widespread search for a fashionably dressed youth who recently appeared in three different sections of the city on one evening and pointing a gun at unescorted young women, commanded them to "Come with me," at the same time threatening to shoot if they made any protest.

Miss Mildred Forrester, when confronted by the young man screamed, and he ran away in the darkness. An hour later Miss J. Goldberg was startled to meet a young man who pressed a revolver to her side and demanded that she accompany him. Miss Goldberg shrieked and the man disappeared. Later Mrs. E. J. Flynn was stopped in a similar manner. While the youth was pressing his demands an automobile drove up and again the young man fled.

Pastor Offers 'Proof' Of Darwiniam Theory

MODESTO, Dec. 21.—Rev. Harold S. Brewster, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal church, is the only local minister who defends Darwinism amid the controversy regarding man's origin which is occupying local ministers.

Discussing Rev. William (Billy) Sunday, the evangelist, who is one of the foremost opponents of the theory, the Episcopalian clergyman said:

"I am tempted to suggest that his actions on the platform are too thoroughly simian to leave any doubt as to the theory of man's origin."

Rev. T. T. Martin, a Baptist evangelist, has been engaged by opposing ministers to deliver two lectures attacking the evolutionary theory of man's descent.

Discussing this development, Rev. Brewster said: "There is no more sense in opposing the theory of evolution than attacking the theory that the earth is round."

Guild Election

The annual meeting for electing officers was held by the Woman's Guild of the Church of the Ascension at Guild hall on North Pine street. Officers elected are: president, Mrs. Raymond Hatch; vice-president, Mrs. John Steven McGroarty; secretary, Miss Adelaide Bailey and Mrs. Buttery, treasurer. These officers will be installed at the first meeting of the Guild in the new year, Friday, January 4, 1924.

Miss Bertha Bergman recently entertained at her home on Sunset boulevard with a bridge tea. The guest of honor was Mrs. A. H. Sutherland, wife of Dr. Sutherland, the psychologist of the Los Angeles schools.

Miss Zoe Gilbert, proprietor of Gilbert's Gift Shop on Sunset boulevard, has sold the property and is closing out her stock. Miss Gilbert expects to engage in some other business in Tujunga.

LEGION TOSSERS DEFEAT BANKERS

Locals Win Second Game of Season Last Night By Score of 32-8

The Glendale American Legion basketball team won their second victory of the season in as many starts when they turned back the Hellman Bank five at the high school gymnasium last night by the score of 32-8.

Metropolitan post of Los Angeles forfeited to the locals, so Glendale now heads the county Legion league with a perfect average. The Bankers were unable to turn out their regular team last night, owing to the short notice given them of the game, and booked a return match for next Wednesday night, when they hope to turn the tables.

The all-around playing of Beach and Brown at forward featured last night's set-to. They had their shooting eye with them and dropped the ball through the net from all angles.

Glendale lined up as follows: Beach, Brown and Leggett, forwards; Austin, Wheelon and Hibbard, guards; Bunker, center.

Next Thursday night the third game of the American Legion schedule will be played here with Victory post of Los Angeles. The locals defeated this same outfit, 71 to 16, last week, but the Angelenos claim they have strengthened their team, and will endeavor to wipe out the defeat.

'EAGER HEART' PLAY TO BE PRESENTED TONIGHT

Collection Will Be Taken For Benefit Of Community Xmas Tree

All is in readiness for the Christmas play, "Eager Heart," to be presented at the new Glendale Union High school auditorium tonight.

It is declared this is a beautiful mystery play. There will be no admission charged, but a collection will be taken for the benefit of the Community Christmas Tree celebration fund.

Mrs. Geraldine Jacobi Russell, the director, has worked out some very beautiful settings and the participants are said to be exhibiting a finished portrayal that will be most entertaining.

The musical part of the play will be very effective. A heavenly host will appear at appropriate intervals and add to the beauty and harmony of the performance.

The Girl Scouts are to act as ushers for the evening. This popular and growing organization will be represented by girls from each of the four troops.

The general public is invited and urged to attend this entertainment that promises to be one of the finest of the holiday season.

Pupils at Colorado School Entertained

The children at Colorado street school enjoyed a delightful Christmas entertainment Tuesday afternoon when a moving picture of the "Patchwork Girl of Oz," one of Frank Baum's charming stories for children, was shown.

The program presented at Fathers' night by the pupils of the school was repeated in its entirety and the children treated to candy by the P.-T. A., and each made happy with a candy cane as a present from the faculty. The program was under direction of Miss Ida M. Waite, principal.

Self-Styled Robbery Victim Safe In Jail

A man giving his name as Benjamin Ligard, but refusing to divulge his occupation or address, insisted last night that he had been robbed of $65 in a restaurant on Brand boulevard.

According to the police report, he evidently had been drinking and was locked up until he could give further information as to the particulars of the robbery.

Of the beverages consumed in America only a very small proportion is made from fruits.

Kirk Enlists Aides In Sewer Campaign

In preparation for his work in Precinct No. 15 in connection with the campaign launched by the Glendale Realty board, W. S. Kirk, precinct chairman, is seeking active workers to assist him in the work of bringing the vital issues of the sewer bond question before every voter in the district assigned to him.

"It is up to us," Mr. Kirk declares, "to see that the bond issue is passed on January 8, and it would be the biggest boost that the residents of this precinct could give if our percentage of votes for the bonds led the entire city. I want to enlist an aggressive worker in every block to help me put this campaign over successfully, and if they will call me at my office, 1131 East Colorado street, I will appreciate their assistance in the attempt to make No. 15 the banner precinct of Glendale."

Lad Injured When He Jumps In Auto's Path

Irwin Young, 6 years old, 318 Brunswick avenue, was injured yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when struck by a car driven by George W. Sipe, 438 East Eighty-fourth street, Los Angeles, at the corner of Glendale and Brunswick avenues.

According to Sipe's report, the lad, with other children, was playing on the parking, and without warning jumped into the street in front of the car. The injured boy was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital for treatment. It was reported this morning that he was not in a serious condition.

SANTA IS EARLY VISITOR TO CITY

Throws Candy to Kiddies at Pendroy's Store From Station on Porch

Santa Claus was up bright and early this morning to get a good start on his Christmas work, for he had an important engagement with Glendale kiddies at the Pendroy store on South Brand boulevard and Harvard.

He had made full arrangements with E. C. Pendroy and his staff of helpers to have hundreds of small paper bags filled with candy. Upon his arrival after a long drive through the frosty morning air, he hastily climbed to the mezzanine floor of the store and then out under the Christmas tree over the Harvard street entrance.

From this lofty location he waved greetings to his hundreds of little friends below and tossed them sacks of candy.

Santa Claus made a big hit with the young folk and they wish, through The Glendale Evening News, to thank Mr. Pendroy for bringing him to Glendale.

Thousands of Women And Girls Disappear

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21.—Leading all other cities in the United States with the greatest number of disappearances in proportion to population, 1020 women and girls were reported missing in Los Angeles during 1922, according to a report issued by the National Association of Travelers' Aid Societies.

During the year, 11,000 women and girls vanished from thirty-three cities throughout the country, but of that number all but 900 were found either dead or alive, the report stated.

The difficulty of achieving complete disappearance was shown in the statement that 92 per cent of the missing, including those in Los Angeles, were eventually located.

Some of the girls when found, it was recited, had undergone harrowing experiences.

Was Charity Patient, But Left $3570 Cash

CARSON CITY, Dec. 21.—Although he was a charity patient at the county hospital for fifteen months and listed as an indigent, G. W. Gladsden left $3570 in cash when he died, according to a petition filed in the district court by George S. Hall, public administrator.

All the property was found in a safe deposit box in a local bank. Excepting a bank certificate for $1000, which is readily convertible into money, the balance is in currency.

Gladsden was 75 years of age. His only known relative is a brother, John Gladsden, who lives in Trempeleau, Wis.

Make Christmas Cheer Permanent With This New Gas Fire

What better gift can you make the whole family than real comfort—day or night—not only for this winter but for the winters that are to come?

The Radiantfire is a remarkable new gas fire, entirely different from the old fashioned gas logs and asbestos grates. For the first time the convenience of gas is combined with the cheery glow of the old-time open fire. You get double the heat at much less cost—only a few cents an hour.

The scientific burner of a Radiantfire generates a blue flame which is absolutely odorless. In an instant the radiants glow into an incandescent mass that sends out amazing heat—radiant heat, like the heat of the sun. Pure, wholesome, convenient, economical.

Just see one in operation. Convince yourself that there is nothing which will give you all such real comfort and lasting pleasure.

There is a size and style of Radiantfire to meet every requirement, from the inexpensive portable type to art models for artistic fireplaces. See the many attractive designs in our showrooms.

Sacramento to Have Clear Water Supply

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 21.—Expansion of plans for the Clear Water celebration by the addition of a river pageant and extension of the time to three days, beginning December 30, is announced by J. N. Reid, manager of the fete.

Mayor James Rolph, Jr., of San Francisco, will be present, accompanied by a fire patrol and fire boat from the bay city. Diving girls will perform and a tin cup parade will signalize the passing of unfiltered river water in the mains.

With the turning of the water into the mains by President Coolidge in Washington pressing an electric button, Sacramento possesses an unlimited supply of clear snow water.

Retail Prices Jump, Wholesale Costs Fall

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—While retail food prices jumped up 1 per cent in November as compared with October, there was a drop of 1 per cent in wholesale in 404 commodities, the department of labor announced today.

During the year ending November 15 retail food prices increased 4 per cent, while wholesale prices decreased 2½ per cent. For the ten year period there was an increase of 44 per cent in retail food prices.

Including sidings, yards and multiple tracks, there are approximately 375,000 miles of rails in the United States.

GIRL SCOUTS TO RENEW ACTIVITY

Troop 2 Re-Organizes Work Under Leadership of Mrs. H. B. Lockwood

The reorganization of Troop 2 of the Girl Scouts, of which Mrs. H. B. Lockwood, 333 West Lexington drive, is leader, was the object of the meeting held at the First Congregational church on Tuesday at 7 p. m.

There are about twenty-four girls in this organization who are planning to take up active work again.

The troop will be in charge of Mrs. Lockwood, with Stella Roberts as scribe; Alberta Plasterer, treasurer; Catherine Stanley, senior patrol leader; Alice Whitaker, first patrol leader; Mahala Wichert, second patrol leader; Marjorie Gilhuly, third patrol leader and chairman of the publicity committee.

The Christmas work undertaken by the troop will be collecting toys for the Children's hospital.

The patrol leaders have arranged a Christmas party for Saturday night at Mrs. Lockwood's home.

Another plan is for a hiking party to Switzers' Camp in the near future.

Yesterday was another "fifty thousand dollar day" at the office of H. C. Vandewater, municipal building superintendent, the largest permit being issued to Milton Hesse for a ten unit court and garage at 1463 East California street, to cost $29,500.

LOCAL CLUBS TO CHEER VETERANS

Will Send Gifts Filled With Gifts to Men at Barlow Hospital

There will be eighty hearts gladdened Christmas day at the Barlow hospital for ex-service men by baskets and gifts presented by Glendale people. The gifts were attractively wrapped and packed yesterday at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse by representatives of well-known local organizations, headed by Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, chairman of ex-service men's and women's welfare for the Tuesday Afternoon club.

Since this duty was assigned her Mrs. Gilliland has always been busy working out details for making Christmas brighter for the war veterans confined in the Barlow and Sawtelle hospitals.

Barlow hospital was specially assigned to Glendale, and Mrs. Gilliland and her assistants have concentrated their efforts there. However, the Sawtelle patients have not been forgotten, nor the Hut in Los Angeles.

The baskets were beautifully packed and decorated, each one containing two oranges, two apples, one grapefruit, a quarter pound of grapes, raisins, chewing gum, home-made candy. Each one bore a card directed with the name of some particular person. In the baskets for the men not receiving compensation a one dollar bill was included. These baskets are for the men and nurses.

Christmas Trees

In addition to the baskets there will be four Christmas trees, ninety-seven jars of jelly, seventy-seven bound books, 100 lily bulbs, and much new warm underwear.

Through the assistance of the Glendale American Legion post trucks will take the things to Barlow tomorrow.

On Christmas morning Glendale High school singers will visit the Barlow hospital to sing carols, and on the evening of December 26 the Glendale women will sponsor a program and entertainment at the hospital.

Gifts of all kinds, including cigarettes, are to be sent to the Sawtelle hospital; and to Barlow, Sawtelle and the Hut go generous checks to aid in reconstruction work.

The Glendale workers are to give a holiday entertainment at Sawtelle the night of December 28.

The organizations assisting Mrs. Gilliland and her committee are War Mothers, members of the D. A. R., Red Cross, Jewish Sisterhood, Legion Auxiliary, American Legion post, Glen Eyrie Social club and various sections of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

Child-Mothers Court Death, Figures Show

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 21.—Child-mothers court death, according to statistics just compiled by L. C. Ross, statistician to the state board of health.

Beginning with the seventy-three California girls of 14 years of age who became mothers during the past three years, it is learned that eighteen died after child-birth, or 25 per cent.

One year later, at the age of 15, one out of eight girl-mothers lost their lives, or 12½ per cent. At 16 years of age the death rate is less than one in twelve, or 8 per cent.

Thenceforward to 20 years of age, the dangers of motherhood steadily decline, until at the age of 20, less than five women in one thousand who become mothers die as a result of child-birth.

At the age of 35 years, the fatality percentage again increases. One in ten at that age dies. At the age of 40, the rate diminishes to one in sixteen.

The death rate among women in the late forties who bear children is even higher than among girls under 16, according to the report.

Hold Lucky Tickets In K. C. Lot Drawing

Over 200 persons attended the Knights of Columbus meeting last night in the council house at 330 East Lomita avenue, where drawings were held for the $1200 lot in Sparr Heights.

According to a report given this morning, the first and second numbers drawn were 4102 and 285. It is stated that the names of the holders of the tickets were to have been written on the stubs placed in the ticket box. This was not done in either case, and unless the holders of the tickets make themselves known within thirty days the lot will go to the holder of the third ticket, 9985, who is Father Michael Galvin.

Later in the evening a turkey raffle was held, making $200 for Christmas charitable work.

River is at Lowest Ebb in Fifty Years

SACRACENTO, Dec. 21.—Not in fifty years has the Sacramento river been as low as the present time, according to N. R. Taylor, United States weather observer at the local bureau.

The gauge in this city stands at 3.3 feet. Other rivers show a similar record, owing to the lack of precipitation on the Sierra Nevada watershed, said Taylor.

HUMANE SOCIETY ORGANIZES HERE

Receives State Charter at Meeting; Edwin Kulp Is Named President

Falling in line with other progressive American cities, Glendale now has a humane society, organized at a meeting last night in the city hall, where a state charter was formally presented and the name of the organization declared the Glendale Humane society.

Officers elected are Edwin Kulp, president; Alexander Mitchell, first vice-president; J. W. Murphy, second vice-president; Mrs. John Hoadley, secretary; Friend Razek, treasurer; Mrs. J. Zink, Mrs. F. S. Card, Dr. Richmond and Dwight Stephenson, directors.

This organization had its beginning some months ago in the Dog Protective association.

The next meeting is to be held January 24 in the auditorium of the Glendale Union High school, where Mrs. Marion Nayland Brase of Santa Monica, founder of the humane society movement in Southern California, will speak.

At the meeting last night Alexander Mitchell, J. W. Murphy and Mrs. F. S. Card were appointed a committee to visit a needy family this morning and take a check for $25.

Richardson Physician To Aid In Kels Test

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 21.—Governor Richardson issued a new statement on the Alex Kels case late yesterday in which he said that the appointment of his personal physician, Dr. F. F. Gundrum, as the third man to make the syphillitic test on the condemned slayer shows that "the state prison board is trying to back track." The governor states however, that "the appointment of Dr. Gundrum is a good one, and I hope he will accept."

Zantippe Bares Details of Criminal Records in August September's Life

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff.

Professor Xavius Zantippe, that high-minded, unselfish idealist seeking election to the presidency on the Meal ticket, piqued by the persistent attacks on his personality issuing from the campaign cave of the wild candidate from Tujunga, Hon. August September, today called the reporters together and issued the following statement:

"For some time past, purely in the interests of science, I have retained the services of Percy Pop-Eye, famous colored detective, unknown to cheap magazine readers. Mr. Pop-Eye, under my direction, has been obtaining data for a volume I plan to issue following my untimely demise, entitled: 'Social Life in Ancient Tujunga.'

"Naturally, in the course of his researches, Mr. Pop-Eye, who is invisible after dark, has discovered a great deal of unsavory data regarding the Hon. September. In fact, these data lead me to believe that Mr. September is not so Hon. as I had thought him.

Issue Is Joined

"Had my acrimonious opponent for public disfavor been more punctilious in his political anathema, these facts would have been withheld for publication in the above-mentioned volume, at which remote time it could have done him no harm. Under the nettling circumstances, however, I am distressed to issue forthwith the result of Mr. Pop-Eye's findings.

"Mr. September is, in the first place, a bigamist and the son of a bigamist, which alone would bar him from holding this high office in which I will find myself after election day. The 32,093rd amendment is explicit on this point.

"In the second place, Mr. September is a fugitive from justice, wanted for counterfeiting by the federal authorities.

"And in the third place, the candidate is not eligible in the first place, as Tujunga, according to careful surveys under the supervision of Mr. Pop-Eye, is technically not a part of the United States, having been held out by General Pio Pico by hiding it under his army blanket, when he surrendered California to Colonel Fremont in 1847.

Family Is Complicated

"Taking up the accusations one by one, and proving them:

First, Mr. September is a bigamist because he is married to both Miss Fall and Miss Autumn, while his father, Mr. August, from whom he receives his sir name, was likewise married to these same ladies. This, in fact, complicates the September family tree to such a point where we deem it best not to go into further details.

Second, Mr. September is a fu-

FORD HAILED AS POLITICAL SANTA

Declaration for Coolidge Is Pleasing to Leaders of Every Faction

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Henry Ford has played Santa Claus to the political factions of all parties by his unqualified indorsement of President Coolidge, according to opinion heard around the capitol.

Search into the Republican and Democratic parties failed to disclose anyone who did not profess "satisfaction" with the Ford announcement. The agreement was general that Ford's announcement cleared the muddled political waters and insured a 1924 campaign on straight old party lines. Friends of President Coolidge were jubilant.

Democrats Pleased

The Democrats accepted the Ford pronouncement with equanimity, and declared "with the Ford threat now removed from party plans" they can go ahead confident that a "real Democrat" will bear the standard in 1924.

Backers of Senator Hiram Johnson, the only avowed opponent of President Coolidge for the nomination, professed to be entirely satisfied, as did the California senator himself. They declared that Ford's strength was located principally in the west and south, and that he cannot transfer this strength to President Coolidge. Consequently, they claimed, a great deal of the "agricultural and progressive" vote of the west, which Ford could have commanded for his own candidacy, will now become the heritage of Senator Johnson.

The supporters of Senator Robert M. La Follette, Republican, of Wisconsin, made claims similar to those of the "Johnsonites."

The exuberance expressed by the McAdoo following, was second only to that of the Coolidge camp. The McAdoo managers privately declared that by removing himself from Democratic consideration, Ford has removed also the only real contender the former secretary of the treasury had.

Thus it was that in every political faction in both parties today, Henry Ford was being heralded as Santa Claus.

Mrs. M. L. Tight Back In Realty Business

After a long vacation, Mrs. M. L. Tight, well known Glendale realty broker, is back in business again, located at 510 North Glendale avenue, where she would like to see her old friends.

Mrs. Tight states that she has taken in a good force of sales agents and is equipped to handle any kind and amount of property.

She has made a thorough survey of Southern California real estate conditions during her absence and is confident that nowhere else are the opportunities as great as here.

Prior to her vacation, Mrs. Tight's office was at 612 East Broadway, where she built up a fine business and established herself as a leading reaity broker of the city.

Mexican Rebels Fall Back on Vera Cruz

MEXICO CITY, via Laredo, Dec. 21.—Rebel troops are falling back toward Vera Cruz after evacuating San Marcos and Puebla, said a despatch to the war office from the "front." This marks the third time these cities have changed hands without bloodshed. Small detachments of rebels are reported to be surrendering continuously to the federal army in the state of Jalisco. Announcement was made that President Obregon would leave soon to take command of the federal army in Jalisco.

TAX APPRAISERS

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 21—State Controller Ray L. Riley has appointed Martin C. Madson, private secretary to former Governor William D. Stephens, as state inheritance tax appraiser for Alameda county. Madsen is well known in political circles, having also served as secretary to former Governor Hiram W. Johnson. Paul Goldsmith and Albert C. Shine, both of Oakland, were also named inheritance tax appraisers by Riley.

PALESTINE SEEN AS MELTING POT

Holy Land Is Place of 'Isms' and Religious Strife Says Dr. Pomeroy

Palestine may be the world's next great "melting pot," according to Dr. George T. Pomeroy of Burbank, who yesterday noon entertained Glendale Exchange Club members at their luncheon in Jensen's Egyptian Village, 133 North Brand boulevard, with a recital of certain personal experiences on a recent trip to the Holy Land.

Here Jews who have come from America, Germany and Russia seeking "the new Judah" mingle with Greek, Latin and Armenian Christians, with Turks and Mohammedans and the followers of myriad strange cults known and unknown to the western world, Dr. Pomeroy declared, stating that one might find there more "isms" than in all Los Angeles county.

Jewish is the official language of the country, he admitted, customs being collected in this language. Ships dock only at Constantinople and Alexandria, on all that coast, other ports being made from the steamers in small boats, sometimes a deadly feat and always a hazardous one.

From Jaffa to Jerusalem, a distance of some forty miles overland, was accomplished in an antique Ford, forty miles over the plains of Sharon, "knee deep in clover," through a valley and upland country of cactus, oranges, lemons and gorgeous flowers, reminding one of Southern California.

Sheep and goats thrived there, Dr. Pomeroy stated, but cattle did

Faith In Santa Claus Is Based on Age-Old Spirit Of Love for Little Ones

Santa Claus still lives and will continue to live in the hearts of the faithful who believe in him. Not, perhaps, as a person of flesh and blood, visible to the naked eye, but as the spirit of love and kindness that permeates the entire world at this season, when people everywhere turn from their daily round to celebrate the birth of the Christ Child who, almost two thousand years ago, was born in the Judean manger and who looked with wide, childish eyes on the wise men who laid gifts at his feet as he lay in his mother's arms.

The following letter brings the spirit of Christmas and strengthens the faith of the little ones, and even of older persons, in Santa Claus:

"The Land of Sleigh Bells and Christmas Trees."

"My Dear Little Friend: I was in Glendale the other day, and as I make it my business to listen in on boys and girls at this season of the year, I heard some discussions about myself that made my face burn and my cheeks red, partly with shame and partly with joy, because you see there are always two sides to every discussion, a good and a bad.

"Now the question was about me, Santa Claus, and whether I ever really existed or was just a silly myth made for very little children. Two boys were talking and one contended that there was no such person as myself, and that his mother and dad bought and gave him the things he wanted at Christmas time. The other boy said he believed in me because his mamma and daddy told him indeed there was a true Santa Claus and they NEVER lied to him.

Santa Claus Pleased

"Now you know who these boys were and which one made me glad. It was you, little friend, and of course the other boy made me sad, for he even used an oath in talking about me.

"But I am writing you because I can plainly see that you want to keep your faith in me and in mother and dad, and being a faithful little boy is hard when you are nine and other boys josh you and call you a baby. And so I'll just try to explain myself to you and you'll feel better, I know.

Spirit of Love

"You see I am very, very old, for I am the Spirit of Love for Little Children and have been in the world a long, long time. I was here many years before even the Christ Child came, but I wasn't known everywhere until that night, nearly two thousand years ago, when that little child was born. 'For God so loved the world that he gave—' you know that verse and what God gave, and why, and you see ever since that love gift was given on Christmas day the 'Spirit of Love for Little Children" has grown and grown and spread around the world, until now at Christmas time in every land and every part of the world this Spirit is known,

YULETIDE SPIRIT GLOWS IN PRISON

San Quentin's Women Inmates Working on Gifts For Friends 'Outside'

By COPELAND C. BURG
For International News Service.

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal., Dec. 21.—Stone walls and steel bars melted by the spirit of Christmas.

The tug of baby fingers, but a poignant memory of near three score women inmates of the California prison is stronger than the arm of the law. For the glow of a child's heart at Christmastide and the undying love of a mother pervade the women's wards at San Quentin today.

In the ward sitting room fifty-five women move to and fro in the height of yuletide preparations, a tiny child bridging for them the chasm between prison wells and firesides.

Mrs. Peete Sews

Near the center of the group sits Mrs. Louise Peete, serving a life sentence for the murder of Jacob Denton at Los Angeles. In her lap is a piece of gay cloth, contrasting sharply with the blue of her prison garb. Murder-convicted hands deftly move the needle. She is making a dress for a baby doll and in each stitch there is the love denied the mother in the care of her own child. Just a bit of cloth to carry a card like a million others, marked: "From mother, to a baby who believes its mother is away on a long visit."

Not far from Mrs. Peete, another life termer makes her Christmas gifts. She is Mrs. Clara Phillips, convicted in Los Angeles of murdering Mrs. Alberta Meadows with a hammer. Childless in the outside world as is Mrs. Peete in prison, Mrs. Phillips is not to be denied this Christ's birthday the joy of a child's love. Nearby in a geranium-covered cottage waits Clara's younger "baby" sister, who fled with Mrs. Phillips when she sped to Honduras in an attempt to escape the law. All her life she has looked to mother love in her older sister, and this Christmas, the first Mrs. Phillips will spend in prison, she is waiting expectant for "Clara's gift."

Bowls of Blossoms

Bright colors—a riot of them—were in the prison ward today. On each round table in the dining-room, huge bowls of California red berries and pine rested on white cloths. Long streamers of red and green hung in festoons from the ceiling. There were roses from the prison garden.

In a corner a Christmas tree glistened, flickering red, blue green and yellow shades, just as beyond the walls. Soon it will be decked, for annually there is an exchange of gifts among the inmates.

It's going to be a happy Christmas for Mrs. Peete. Her attorneys selected the Yuletide season to start proceedings for a new trial for her. She is hoping that the first favorable word will come on Christmas Eve. This hope and its promise of future Yuletides with her baby keep her brave.

Christmas Spirit

"You see," said the matron, as she gave orders for the preparation of the prison Christmas dinner, which will include turkey and every other Christmas item, "they're happy. Even behind these walls they get the Christmas spirit. Every year I've seen it come and grow and grow.

"Even little Mrs. Phillips is happy. Her husband is coming for the holidays and soon he is to live nearby so he may visit her more often. And Mrs. Peete. How happy she has been preparing her child's gifts, dreaming the while of her new fight for liberty. And right down the line it's the same with all of them—it's Christmas, and that means good cheer for all."

Democrats Will Help Reduce Income Taxes

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The Democratic party in the senate will co-operate with the Coolidge administration in reducing income taxes on small and earned incomes, Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democratic member of the senate finance committee, has announced. He gave notice he would oppose any attempt to reduce taxes on "the bloated millionaire" class.

"I want a better reason than any yet given by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon," he said, "who represents the Republican party and from twenty to thirty of the country's greatest trusts. We Democrats will not support Secretary Mellon's program for taking taxes off millionaires and profiteers."

High School Grid Teams Feted by Business Men Of Glendale at Banquet

Glendale officially took recognition of the work of the three football teams from the union high school last night, when 200 of the leading business and professional men of the city gathered at a banquet, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, at the Central Christian church.

Seated at the speakers' table as special guests of honor were the members of the heavyweight, lightweight and flyweight gridiron squads, who, as they were individually introduced, received an ovation from the men present. Mayor Spencer Robinson and members of the City Council were seated at the tables, as well as representatives from every commercial organization and luncheon club in the city.

After the concerted singing of "America," and the invocation by Rev. Clifford A. Cole, the guests were seated and partook of an excellent turkey dinner prepared by the women of the Christian church and served by girls from the high school. The dinner, which included cranberry sauce, celery, dressing and all the other good things that go to make a real Christmas dinner, was served in excellent style, without confusion or delay.

President W. E. Hewitt, of the Chamber of Commerce, presided, and introduced Dr. Henry R. Harrower as toastmaster. Dr. Harrower called Archie Neal, high school yell leader, to his assistance, and yells were given for everyone and sundry who had helped make the football season such a credit to Glendale, as well as those responsible for the banquet. The boys' orchestra, composed of Arthur Cressy, Ivan Dow, Henry Grace, Thomas Woods and Wallace Harris, which furnished music during the banquet, came in for an extra large cheer.

Tells Training Methods

Coach Normal Hayhurst was the first speaker of the evening and gave an insight into the training methods adopted at the local school. He brought out the fact that, of the entire squad which started the season in September, every member has finished. There was not a single man on any of the teams who had quit during the middle of the season.

For the first time he gave his opinion as to the debacle during the first six minutes of the game with Long Beach. "While the psychology of the thing may have had something to do with it, I doubt it," said Coach Hayhurst. "I attribute those two touchdowns of Long Beach to the fact that our men were not playing low enough. In the Santa Monica game it was not necessary to play low to get a man, but in the Long Beach game it was. As soon as the boys found this out they resumed their old stride, with what results everyone in Southern California knows."

The coach paid the sportsmanlike character of the boys a very high compliment. He said training rules had been faithfully kept, and team work had been the one idea during the season, not individual glory.

Coach Hayhurst was followed by Owen C. Emery, president of the Glendale Merchants' association, a graduate of the Glendale High school. He spoke along the lines of the battle of life as compared to the football field, and urged the boys always to play a clean game like the exhibition they gave in the Coliseum against Long Beach.

Karr Reads Poem

George B. Karr, president of the Rotary club, then read an original poem, much to the delight and amazement of those present, who were not aware that he had any poetic tendencies. The poem follows:

Whenever the Tired Business Man,
Becomes a regular Foot-Ball-Fan,
His mind goes back to the day and time
When he too, stood in the football line.
It revives in his heart the days when he Urged on his school to victory.
He feels as if he'd like another chance
To try and make the "pig-skin" dance;
But the stress and strain of man's life,
With its added care and added strife,
Put on the pounds of avoirdupois,
That they didn't have when they were boys;
And make it very plain to be seen,
That for him a golf ball on the green
Is better far than the active sport
Which makes him puff and wheeze and snort;
But he can boost with all his might,
And that is why we're here tonight.
Gee—we've got a swell head, I'll say,
For here's the team that holds full sway
Over our heart and over our pals,
Everyone's strong for you—boys and gals;
And all the townsmen boost you too,
"We hope to tell you" we think you'll do,
When you started playing this last fall,
From the very beginning you played football,
From start to finish you kept on the run,
To show us all how it could be done.
South Pasadena—Citrus—Van Nuys,
All bowed their heads to you football guys.
When ye played San Berdoo, our hearts got a thump,
But you came out on top like a regular trump.
And back on the schedule with Samohi
Our banners unfurled again to the sky.
All ancient saws and adages old
Have reason for being—I've been told.
"Pride must go before a fall."
That's what happened when you got the call
To fight the "Jack Rabbits" on neutral ground,
At you they came in one fell bound.
They simply swooped down into sight,
To you it brought a swift "stage fright"—
Perhaps it was the color they wore,
Orange they say rushes on before—
So they made their touchdowns upon the line,
Ere you caught your breath, Brothers mine;
But when you did—Oh Gee Whizz—
You ceraimly showed them you "knew your bizz,"
You see you really called their bluff
And let us know you "knew your stuff."
Our lightweights now we'll proudly toast,
And of our flyweights too, we'll boast,
And our Dynamiters, we're for you all,
Long be the reign of clean football.
With praise and honor to the man,
Who stood behind this loyal clan.

Robert Johnson welcomed the boys on behalf of the Exchange club, and gave several tales of his prowess as a "center-rush" in the old days. No one dared to dispute him, as he certainly looked the part while addressing the youthful heroes opposite him.

On behalf of the Kiwanis, A. L. Ferguson, president, gave the boys a splendid talk on sportsmanship. He explained in detail the rules under which the California Interscholastic Federation operates, and drew a striking contrast of the difference in high school athletic circles ten years ago. One interesting fact was brought to light when he stated that the Glendale heavyweights had scored 430 points to 27 by their opponents this last season. This was the incentive for loud cheers.

DeLos H. Smith spoke on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, and the next was a drama in one act by Peter Hanson, president of the Glendale Realty board, who appeared from behind a huge flower pot, with all of his native characteristics and ear marks, including blonde wig. "Aye yust vant to talk tree minutes on Spasms," he said, and then furnished the only funny stunt of the evening. His talk was a very learned discourse on spasms, too learned for most of his listeners to comprehend, however, he put the "football spasms" over.

Songs and Speeches

In between the speeches Dr. Jack Anderson led the business men in cheering for the teams, and Owen Emery led the singing of several songs with special words appropriate to the occasion written by William Hunter and George B. Karr.

The banquet, as a dinner, was a great success, and the program that followed was of a character that will assist the boys as they leave the school to enter college or business life.

Professor George U. Moyse was seated with the football teams and received several enthusiastic cheers. Confidence was expressed by Coaches Hayhurst, Butterfield, and Wolfe that Glendale's chances for another championship team in 1924 were very promising.

Mexican Arrested As Woman's Murderer

TULA, Mex., Dec. 21.—A Mexican farm laborer has been arrested charged with complicity in the murder of Mrs. Emily C. Earhart, an American woman. The murder was not connected with the Mexican revolt. The original plan was to take the body to California for burial, but on account of interrupted communication in obtaining government permits, it was decided to bury the body here. Interment took place amidst scenes of widespread grief as the slain woman was very popular in this district. Military honors were paid by troops from the garrison.

THE GLENDALE

Tonight will be the last opportunity to see Tom Mix in his adventures in "Stepping Fast," his latest William Fox picture, showing at the Glendale Theatre.

Tom Mix fans who saw the picture yesterday declare him to be at his best in "Stepping Fast."

In this film Tom plays the role of a young cowboy who inherits one-half of a gold mine hidden away in the ruins of the cliff-dwellings in the Arizona desert. The other half interest is held by the daughter of the cowboy's benefactor, who is in China. Tom travels to Hong Kong to prevent a band of international crooks from getting the secret of the mine, and there engages in a tremendous fight to save the girl.

The escaping logs and water swept toward the cameras and props, but Mulhall, in costume, leaped into the stream with the technical forces and helped restore the dam.

"Dulcy" was directed for Producer Joseph M. Schenck by Sidney Franklin and is a First National picture.

Described as typically American, with plenty of action, "Dulcy" is said to be altogether different from anything yet

"I ask you, what good would it do Mr. September, even if he could get the votes, to become president, when he would at once be impeached? Let him try it! He will find himself in the Work House instead of the White House!"

The above statement, printed verbatim in all the great dailies throughout the land, has brought consternation to the camp of the laundry ticket candidate, Hon.? August September, and Percy Pop-Eye. Darktown's detective king, following a little scouting expedition to Tujunga, states Mr. September's support is rapidly waning in that territory.

PANTHER EDGING INTO N. Y. RINGS

Wills' Match With Madden Is First Step To Gotham Fight For Title

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Behind the project to match Harry Wills and Bartley Madden at Madison Square Garden practical boxing minds are pleased to note a studied gesture towards the establishment of a precedent that will make possible a Dempsey-Wills bout later. This altogether worthy enterprise is now taboo in Manhattan rings by tacit and unspoken agreement, the rich sepia of Mr. Wills' frontispiece being the reason.

Mr. Wills has never been permitted to fight a white man in Manhattan proper since the Walker law went into effect. On occasion they have tossed him a Caucasian pushover within the limits of New Jersey and shudderingly covered their sensitive eyes. A few months ago they even ventured as near as Long Island City with the terrible details and Homer Smith went down and lay tragically still from a rude push on the chest.

Gotham Invasion

"Give a man an inch and he will take a mile" is an old saying. Having beaten white men in New Jersey and Long Island City, Wills now wishes to beat Hartley Madden at Madison Square Garden, and the New York state athletic commission will be asked to give its sanction to the proceedings. If it does so, it will leave a loophole for a possible Dempsey-Wills match for the heavyweight championship of the world next summer.

That ,at least, is the inference taken by those worthies who wish to promote Wills into serious money before the crutch and wheel chair claim him as their own. To them it is a matter of overcoming an unspoken prejudice in some official minds, which are now sufficiently versatile to see nothing remiss in mixed bouts between bantams, featherweights, lightweights, etc., but become unduly perturbed at the mere mention of promiscuous mixing of heavyweight tints.

It may have been known that when Wills appeared in Manhattan rings they have been quite careful to see that the co-attraction did not relieve the monotony of the color scheme. Kid Norfolk, Jack Thompson, Bill Tate and other sombre gents were also parties of the second and unfortunate part.

Rumors, Denials, Alibis

By F. A. GRAHAM

Louis Angel Firpo, the palpitating aspirant to Jack Dempsey's heavy weight crown, has been presented with a diploma by the South American Boxing Federation. And for what, do you think? For his "Exploits in the United States." Those so dear Latin brothers down south have either a sense of humor or else they are preparing to give Louis the whole continent in case he ever wins the title. Perhaps it's neither, as the Chinese say, but if Firpo can get a diploma for knocking over a lot of set ups and then flunking on the test lesson, why didn't we get a diploma when we got kicked out of school for playing hooky? We copied a lot of lessons but got floored when the star pupil moved over into the next precinct, thereby leaving us with nobody to copy from. Firpo failed to win the heavyweight title and goes home and gets a nice new diploma, ribbon and everything, but what we got when we went home after failing to win the teacher's o. k. was no diploma. And you may lay to that.

Adolfo Luque, major league leading pitcher of the Cincinnati Nationals, is about to lose his wife, according to the Heraldo de Cuba of Havana, which tells us that proceedings have been instituted by Senora Eugenia Valdes Luque to undo what the priest did several years ago. In other words, Mrs. Luque is asking waivers on her pitcher-husband. She doesn't want him in her league any more. The senora apparently is onto Senor Luque's curves.

Rollie Zeider, our cherry picking friend, one time Angel and Vernon Tiger, has been engaged by Shreveport in the Three I or Two Ear league or some place. Rollie was a favorite on the coast in his day, with his bandy legs and well developed nose. The bugs of the ball and bat used to tell stories about Zeider's nose. The one that is supposed to establish authority for his nickname of "Cherry Picker" goes something like this:

Rollie was in Salt Lake with his club and one morning some of the boys took an auto ride out to the suburbs to a little town named Farmington to visit one of the player's relatives, who had several cherry trees on his place. It was in June and the fruit was wonderful to behold. In displaying his hopitality the owner of the place told the boys to go out in the orchard and help themselves to the cherries. Wandering around from one tree to another somebody missed Zeider. They hunted several minutes before they found him. He was up in the top of a tree with his nose hooked over a limb, picking cherries with both hands. Some nose!

Another tale they told on the good natured victim was about the time Rollie tried to get tough with a new umpire in the league. Rollie made several cracks about the ump's eyesight, judgment and so forth without drawing a return fire. The ump was very dignified and never gave him a tumble until the game was nearly finished. Zeider was taking his turn at bat and the ump called a strike on him. Zeider turned and scowled a heavy brow at the arbiter and muttered something. Mr. Ump stepped away from his position back of the catcher, removed his mask and very politely inquired, "Do you smell anything dead around here?" Zeider was puzzled by the question and answered, "No." "Then," said the ump, "there can't possibly be anything dead around here."

HORNSBY CASE IS DE-E-P MYSTERY!

Mr. McGraw Back, But That's About All There Is To Declare

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—The great Hornsby mystery will be revived in all its more or less fistic details today coincident with the arrival of our Mr. McGraw upon the Leviathan. He will be backed into the most convenient corner and at the point of a menacing lead pencil, ordered to pass over all available information on the subject.

Our McGraw already has gone on record as having lost in Hornsby. Branch Rickey, president-manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, has repeatedly said that Rogers, the great, is still a valuable asset in the eyes of the St. Louis club and will continue as same until further notice. But the boys are prone to accept these statements as so much salt in the coffee. It is possible that Messrs. McGraw and Rickey have been placed in the position of the philosopher who spoke from experience in saying: "Tell the truth and be scorned."

Not on Market

Hornsby, according to Rickey, is not on the market. Hornsby, according to many baseball men, either is the property of the Giants ot this moment, or is certain to come here before the end of the season. One of the latter is Kid Elberfeld, former major league infielder. The Kid has been out of the big leagues for years and therefore knows all about it.

Jim Tierney, secretary of the Giants, is said to have offered odds of five to one that Hornsby will remain in St. Louis. James is also quoted to the effect that the Giants have no room for Hornsby. He might have added that a ladder has no particular use for rungs.

The Giants, to be frank, wanted Hornsby as they have wanted nothing else earlier in the year, but the negotiations came to a standstill when Rickey is said to have demanded Frisch and other players in exchange. It was at this juncture that McGraw bowed himself out and announced that his interest in the star had grown cold. Since then it has been reported that the Cardinals have moderated their valuation of Hornsby to some extent.

No One Knows

McGraw has been touring Europe to such purpose that he neglected to return in time for the annual meetings at Chicago. This oversight was taken to mean that he had Hornsby tied up, or that he had dropped the matter entirely, as announced.

Candidly no one knows except the actual principals. The impression, however, has insinuated itself among the local intelligenzia that perhaps McGraw's original statement stands as it was made. It is possible that both Rickey and McGraw are well-informed on the subject of Hornsby and that their remarks about the lukewarm condition of the alleged deal are of some value.

DRILLERS' SQUAD READY FOR FRAY

High School Gridiron Title At Stake In Struggle With Lick Eleven

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—Confident of victory tomorrow over Lick-Wilmerding High school for the championship of California, the Bakersfield squad, present holders of the coveted title, arrived here today and immediately donned uniforms and held a short practice at Ewing field, where the battle for title honors will be held.

Today's practice is the last for both squads. The unusually long football season has left the gridders in poor mental condition for much hard, pre-game training.

The Oil Drillers, heavy and fast, and with a wealth of reserve material, are conceded the edge over their lighter local opponents, although the brilliant aerial attack of the local lads is conceded to be a big threat against any opposition.

Lick has already been defeated this season. Polytechnic High school turned the trick more than a month ago in a battle for the championship of the San Francisco High School league. School board rulings prevented the victor from entering the race for the California championship.

ADMITS SPECULATION

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21.—A. W. Coote, bankrupt stock broker on trial for alleged embezzlement, yesterday admitted under cross-examination that partial responsibility for the $2,000,000 failure of his firm was due to his own personal trading, or speculating, in stocks and bonds on his account. Coote maintained, however, that he was unaware that his concern was bankrupt until the failure of a New York connection, whereby he lost $300,000, he said.

Europeans Believe Most Automobiles In America Are Sold by Installment

European newspapers are unanimous in their declaration that 88 per cent of all automobiles sold in the United States are on installment payments, writes W. B. Kirk in his travel letter today.

W. B. KIRK

The conclusion of Mr. Kirk's last letter states that in all his travels in New York, London and Paris he has not seen any traffic to compare with that in Los Angeles.

He continues today: "This leads me to remark on a statement that is going the rounds of European papers that 88 per cent of all autos sold in the United States are on installment payments. If that is not true it should be refuted.

"Another statement is that three-fourths of all autos made are sold in America. Another item appearing recently states that 'six big American industrialists are busy building and equipping complete manufacturing plants in France. The establishment of European factories by large American manufacturers has assumed the proportions of a general movement, a Paris representative of one of the companies told The Tribune yesterday.'

American Factories

"They plan thus to solve their export difficulties. Unable to balance the cost of American production with Europe's depreciated money, they will bring their specialized American machinery and methods abroad, and utilize the lower scale of labor wages, real estate cost, and transportation. The largest of these is the International Harvester company, erecting a factory at Lille.

"Our prosperity and abundance are surely remarkable, especially when viewed from this side of the world with its low wages and lack of employment. Perhaps you have had it in your papers, that the unemployed in the principal countries of Europe number over 3,200,000, running from 'none' in France, to 660,000 in Germany, and 1,250,000 in England. Can you blame them for looking with envious eyes at us?

Back to Venice

"But I must finish my story of Venice. All the pictures you see of Venice are correct, not over-drawn. Although yesterday was cloudy and chill, we took one of the regular boats on the Grand Canal down past the Rialto and then back and out the other way, northeast, past the park to 'The Island,' which is in the bay, out toward the Adriatic.

"As we were returning the sky cleared just in time for us to have a glorious view of the skyline of the city, with its towers, spires and domes in the glow of the setting sun, which was more beautiful than any painter could possibly produce. In the far distance, the gilded snow peaks of the Alps, in a long line, formed a perfect background.

"The fishing boats, with their yellow and red sails and decorated prows, add picturesqueness to the waterfront. Some of their oar-propelled boats are large and carry unbelievable loads of freight, operated by one or two men. Gas, steam and horse-power are rarely used, when men, women or boys can possibly do the job.

Rides Speed Boat

"Florence (Firenze), November 24, bringing to mind the old expression 'Let me grasp the hand that once grasped Sullivan's,' we were all swelled up over the fact that our gondolier on the trip to the station in Venice was Msgr. Mandelaria, winner of the first prize for speed in the last royal regatta. So congratulate us!

"Mr. M. is a large, fine specimen of humanity, could understand English and was glad to pose for a snapshot. On account of the tide's being very high, we were not able to take our short cuts to the station, because there was not room for us to pass under the bridges, but the dexerity and celerity, which our 'driver' displayed in getting through the traffic was beautiful to see. The 'horn' that these fellows use, is their own voice. They all pitch in the same key and you can hear them day and night.

"The best train from Venice to

FULL HOUSE FOR 'OH-HO' PREDICTED

Exchange Club's Santa Claus Show Sees Big Demand for Admissions

By actual count, up until noon today there were six hundred and twenty seats reserved for the "Oh-Ho" Santa Claus show. With a day and a half to go, and the box office exchanges at the door at the high school tomorrow night, it looks certain that this show is going to play to capacity business.

Dr. H. R. Harrower, "Santa Claus' Assistant" in Glendale, urges everyone to buy the tickets that have been sent to the limited mailing list, as there is most urgent need of every dollar that can be added to this fund. Those who have not had tickets mailed can make their reservations just the same at Roberts & Echols' drug store on Broadway near Brand.

Everyone planning to see the "Oh-Ho" show should make their reservations for reserved seats just as soon as possible. This enables the committee to get a line on the extent of the Santa Claus activities, and also assures the ticket holder of the better seats.

Admission Only 50 Cents

"Oh-Ho" is a gem of a show. Fifty cents is all that is being charged to see this production, and it is well worth $2 in theatrical entertaining qualities. When one knows that he is getting the best theatrical offering ever staged in Glendale with local talent, and that the very nominal amount asked for admission is all being spent to see that poor children of this city have a happy Christmas, this is an event that no one can avoid.

D. Ripley Jackson, postmaster, said there was another big stack of Santa Claus letters which had arrived at the postoffice this morning. Some of the appeals therein are truly pathetic. These youngsters long for a happy Christmas, and their belief in Santa is such that they know that Santa will bring them what they desire. Was it not for the "Oh-Ho" show, many of these little boys and girls would have no Christmas at all.

The 50 cents asked for a ticket to "Oh-Ho" will buy a boy or girl a toy that will make them smile a true smile of graciousness on Christmas morn. An "Oh-Ho" ticket will give its owner one of the most enjoyable evenings ever spent at a theatre.

Show Is Winner

"Oh-Ho" has made a great impression as a show wherever given. Besides copping the blue ribbon as the best amateur show ever staged in Glendale, "Oh-Ho" holds the record as the best of all shows at San Diego, Pasadena, Riverside, Redlands, Sacramento, Oakland, San Francisco and Fresno.

The show is patterned after the great George Ade college life musical comedies, "The College Widow" and "Fair Co-ed." It just bubbles over with good clean fun. Laugh after laugh follow each other in rapid succession, to be interrupted now and then by a tuneful musical number, in which Glendale's most beautiful girls will be seen in a fascinating dance, or the haunting vocal number of one of our best known singers.

From 8:15 until near 11 o'clock the show keeps up its fun and joy in unravelling its clever story of college life.

"Oh-Ho" will be seen for but one more performance here, that of Saturday evening of this week, at the new high school auditorium. A reserved seat is essential to get to the show, and these are selling now at Roberts & Echols' drug store.

"Oh-Ho" and Santa Claus are near-synonyms in Glendale.

High School Station For Incoming Parcels

A number of Glendale residents appear to have gathered a wrong conception of the objects for which the parcel post terminal was established in the high school gymnasium on East Harvard street, according to Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson.

Many of them have gone to the high school terminal expecting to have delivered to them packages that they were expecting from distant friends, and others have sought to mail packages at the terminal.

This branch has been established solely, Postmaster Jackson states, as a receiving station for incoming parcel post mail, and from there it is distributed to the addressees through the regular postoffice carrier organization. No packages are received at this station for forwarding to outside points.

PASADENA PLANS BIRTHDAY PARTY

Tournament of Roses Marks Fiftieth Anniversary As Municipality

PASADENA, Dec. 21.—Floral floats, automobiles and equipages of every description, to the number of more than one hundred, bugle, fife, drum and the blare of brass, under soft banners in blue and gold, will usher in Pasadena's fiftieth year as a California municipality and the thirty-fifth annual Tournament of Roses, New Year's morning, at 10:30 o'clock.

In the parade, twenty-five sister cities of the southland will be represented, interspersed by twenty-six famous bands and other musical organizations contributing their notes of rejoicing over the finished work, which has been the thoughtful, constant care of thousands of decorators and artisans for the past fortnight. University of California Glee club and Jazz band, Covina, Compton, and other bands will parade over the line of march early New Year's morning, giving concerts to the waiting tens of thousands, before the stately line of rose-bedecked entries begins to descend Colorado street hill.

Police and traffic arrangements this year, under the direction of Chairman David Blankenhorn, point to perfect facility in handling with comfort the 300,000 expected visitors. Maps to the number of 30,000 have been distributed over Southern California, containing simple directions for those wishing to see the tournament parade. Congestion will be avoided as never before, says Mr. Blankenhorn.

Lomita Park Once Actor Colony Well Known for Culture and Refinement

By "OLD TIMER"
Of The Evening News Staff.

For a number of years, Lomita Park, as it was known in the early days, was the home of the actor colony, as it was termed, and as such was recognized in his book, "Glendale and Vicinity," by Mr. Sherer.

Near Brand boulevard on Lomita avenue, "the street with the big trees," were a number of pleasant bungalows owned, not rented, by the theatrical people of Los Angeles, who enjoyed coming out to the quiet village to their homes among the orange trees, Lomita Park being a part of the Crow orange grove.

These pleasant bungalows with their well-kept lawns, hedges of scarlet geraniums and beautiful rose gardens, were among the beauty spots of the village, and no drive or walk was complete without a glimpse of the shady street and the picturesque little homes.

The occupants of these houses were largely members of stock companies, and there was a degree of permanence in their residence.

Among the better known were Harry Duffield, Henry Stockbridge and his wife, Mrs. Fanny Yantis Stockbridge, Harry Glazier and others well remembered.

Home of Culture

They were people of refinement and culture, and when their duties allowed were a distinct addition to the social life of the town.

In the late afternoon, a passenger on the Pacific Electric going into Los Angeles, after passing Lomita avenue, often found himself sharing the seat with a genial, well-groomed man, who was ready to enter into conversation, in the course of which it developed that his fellow passenger was going in for rehearsal.

It is the complaint of the cartoonist of the day that President Coolidge has no distinctive feature or mannerism which can be effectually used and recognized under all circumstances.

The above could not be said of President Wilson and he was an easy subject for the cartoonist with his rather scholarly or pedantic face, full eyes and the inevitable silk hat of the college president or statesman.

Wilson's Double

Not in his younger days, but as he grew older, did the late veteran actor, Harry Duffield, bear some slight resemblance to the war president. This was brought out strikingly at a pageant given by the Tuesday Afternoon Club during war time, when, as the action demanded the characterization of President Wilson, Mr. Duffield, in silk hat and make-up, came down the aisle, supported on either hand by a soldier and sailor in uniform, bearing the colors. The applause was tumultuous, and throats tightened at the impressive scene.

Some months later when President Wilson actually did come to Los Angeles on that memorable western trip, on seeing him bowing from the automobile, a Glendale woman was heard to remark that he looked just like Mr. Duf-

SCHOOLS FORCED TO COLLECT TAX

Must File Affidavit With Revenue Collector to Get Exemption

Collector of Internal Revenue Rex Goodcell today stated that some apparent misunderstanding exists in this district with regard to the collection of war tax admissions to entertainments given by school and other organizations.

Collector Goodcell pointed out the fact that no school or organization is excused from the collection of war tax upon admission to any entertainment, regardless of the character of the beneficiary, unless sworn affidavit is filed with the internal revenue office, signed by a duly authorized agent or officer of the association. Such affidavit must be made upon Form 755 provided for that purpose and sworn to before some officer having authority to administer oaths, and must contain correct information with regard to the date, location and character of the entertainment to be given, and the name of the beneficiary and its character.

The mere filing of such an affidavit is not sufficient, Collector Goodcell declared, and permission for the printing of tickets and to proceed with the entertainment tax free is withheld until Form 755A, certificate of exemption from collection of federal tax on admissions, is granted by the collector.

Subject to Fine

Collector Goodcell further stated that any school or organization or person who fails to file the necessary sworn affidavit and to receive the necessary permission for exemption for the collection of war tax upon admissions to an

SPIRITUALITY VS MATERIALITY

CONFESSIONS OF A BABY

Last week I told you that one of the things that keeps me resistant to taking cold is the fact that I am a fresh air fiend, that I have the wonderful fresh air every minute of my life. The fresh air makes my digestion better, it keeps my appetite good, and in every way is good for me. If I were a delicate child, fresh air would be even more important to me, if that were possible.

I told you also that Doctor says while it is important to have fresh air, mammas must also remember that it is important for us to be warm while we have it. And of course. If we are delicate babies even more precautions would have to be taken to keep us warm.

I told you that I had slept out doors on the sleeping porch practically all my life since I was six weeks old. We babies must not sleep on sleeping porches if it is very cold or extremely bad weather, but other times it is highly desirable to have us sleep out doors as early as possible, sick or well. You might use me as an example.

Of course, we must be warm. Remember I emphasized that last week, and told you about my sleeping blankets and so on.

Now, today, Doctor wants me to talk to you a little about airing the nursery and about the temperature of it. During the day our nurseries should be kept as nearly as possible at a temperature of from 65 to 68 degrees Fahrenheit. A thermometer should be hung—about three feet from the floor—so the temperature can be easily known.

It is a very common mistake to overheat our living rooms. At night if we sleep indoors, the nursery should be cooler than in the day time, because we sleep much better in the cool air than we do in the warm air—just the same as you do, mammas—and it makes us stronger, so we do not so easily catch cold and other things we shouldn't. The temperature can be reduced gradually and we can sleep in unheated rooms after we are six weeks old, if we have been accustomed to it gradually and if we are so dressed that we are kept warm. Of course, in very cold climates the temperature of the sleeping room must be kept above the freezing point.

To get our fresh air we must have the windows open. If it is extremely cold and windy, some frames six or eight inches high covered with three or four layers of cheesecloth, can be put under the lower sash and they will prevent the wind from blowing in, and still give us fresh air. Unless it is too cold, the windows should be opened top and bottom. Our little beds can be placed out of the direct draft, and if this is impossible, blankets can be pinned around our cribs so the wintry winds will not be too rough with us.

I wonder if I have sufficiently impressed on you mammas our need for fresh air? You know how we need many more calories of food in proportion to our weight than do grown-ups. You know that we healthy babies take 40 to 45 calories to each pound of our weight every day. Just so it is with fresh air, mammas. We need more fresh air than you do!

But you won't forget about keeping us warm enough, will you? You can tell that by our hands and feet. Of course, you must remember also, mammas, that we must not become overheated—for aside from being exposed to those suffering with infectious colds, getting too warm and perspiring and then cooling too rapidly is one of the surest ways of catching cold.

In my last week's talk to you I don't think I mentioned about the best time to take us out for our airing. In the winter and early spring, the middle of the day from 10 a. m to 3 p. m. is the best time; in the summer and early fall, the best time is before and after this time because of the greater heat in the middle of the day, unless we can be taken out in a shady place that is protected from the sun.

Au revoir, mamma dears—

A. SOCKUMS.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

A dainty light dessert is made of two large oranges and a dozen marshmallows. Cut each marshmallow in four pieces. Squeeze the juice from one of the oranges over the marshmallows and put in a cold place, stirring occasionally until the juice is absorbed. Peel oranges and cut away all outer skin. Now slice lengthwise, so that each strip will be the same thickness. Arrange slices of orange in sherbet glasses to represent lilies and center with the marshmallows and small pieces of orange. This makes a nice "surprise" luncheon dessert for the dinner.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a high school girl of 16 and have dark bobbed hair. I am very popular among my young men friends.

I have been going with a boy of 16. He is very handsome and the only boy that I really care to go with. Of late his attentions have been lagging. He seems to be interested in another girl. Should I be friendly to her or not, and what can I do to regain his attentions? It is very trying to see some other girl step in. She is supposed to be my friend.

BOB.

It is only natural that you should be disappointed in love occasionally. The best thing for you to do is let the boy go since he no longer cares for you as much as he does some one else. You cannot expect to keep the interest of all your boy friends. Later on you will care just as much for some one else and will forget your disappointment in the happiness of your new friend.

By all means continue to be friendly with the girl who is your rival.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Is it proper for a girl to speak to a gentleman or should he speak to the girl first? A boy hasn't been speaking to me for a long time and when I got after him about it he said I should speak first.

ANXIOUS TO KNOW.

Your boy friend is right it is the girl's place to speak first in this country.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a widow twenty-three years old, with a boy three. Some time after my husband died I started to go with a fellow steady. I went with him a year and then I learned from a friend that he was married. I was nearly wild, for I loved him dearly enough to marry him. He had asked me to go away with him and I consented. When I learned the truth I tried to give him up. I started to go with another man, who had tried for six months before to take me places. He is very kind and good to me, and I like him very much, but I cannot forget the other.

The other writes to me often, stops me on the way to work, telephones me and tries every way to talk to me a minute, always pleading for me to love him and trust him. He has been separated from his wife three years, but she will not divorce him on account of religion. He is very jealous of me. Although I never saw him intoxicated, the year we were friends, since then he has often been seen drunk. He says he tries to forget and that is the only way.

There is yet another problem. I must marry for the reason that my mother is very cruel to me and my boy. She slaps him for nothing and scolds me if I even try to comfort him when he cries. I work every day and give her $10 a week for keeping him and I pay half the grocery bill. I cannot stay here any longer and must do something. Both men want me to marry them. Should I marry the man I love or the one that loves me and is willing to take me, hoping I will learn to love him more? The second one knows I love the first one, but thinks I don't marry him because he is so jealous and drinks.

HEARTBROKEN WIDOW.

The man you love does not act like a good man. He may be very fascinating, but if you were to marry him I feel confident he would make you very unhappy. He was not honorable in the first place when he accepted your love and led you to believe he was a single man. Now it is ridiculous for him to lay the blame of his drinking at your feet.

Since you do not love him, however, it would not seem advisable to marry the second man merely for the selfish reason of having a better home for yourself and child. Perhaps you can find someone away from home, who will care for your little boy for the same remuneration which your mother now receives.

You really have no choice of a husband between the two men since one is already married. Your decision lies in the question of marrying one man or remaining single.

BEAUTY CHATS

by EDNA KENT FORBES

IF YOU HAVE CHILBLAINS

If grown people would be sensible they would never have chilblains. There was a time when thin shoes and the thinnest kind of kid gloves were considered smart, and thousands of people had aching hands and feet as the result of following the fashion. But nowadays wool stockings, or wool and silk mixed are smarter than thin silk for outdoor wear, and Oxfords and stout walking shoes are preferred to pumps. Thick leather or wool lined gloves are smarter than French kid and the best looking kinds have loose wrist cuffs which extend several inches up the arm.

If your hands and feet are well protected this way you need never have chilblains. You probably wouldn't anyway if you warmed your hands and feet gradually when coming indoors instead of toasting them at once before a hot fire.

But, assuming that you have chilblains, let us consider how to cure them. If they are not broken a good thing to do is to rub them with turpentine, and then to massage the entire leg with the hands. This stimulates the circulation of the blood, which is necessary. In the very early stages paint the inflamed parts with tincture of iodine. If that affords no relief here is a special ointment:

Mix one and one-half ounces of soap liniment, two drams of turpentine, two of spirits of camphor. Shake this well in a bottle before using it. If none of these give relief, gather together your courage, put your feet in a basin of water as hot as you can stand it, let them soak a few minutes, then plunge them into a basin of cold water, dry and rub them thoroughly with the hands.

I cured the only attack of chilblains I ever had by walking out of the house barefooted one winter's day and standing in the snow, which was deliciously cold to my hot, inflamed feet. I was well wrapped up otherwise so did not catch cold.

C. G. H.—Try a simple astringent several times each week which should help in refining the coarse pores. A few drops of tincture of benzoin in water, or witch hazel, or an ice rub will do this. Refining a skin that has become coarsened will take time, and if it is possible an occasional professional treatment should be taken to hasten the improvement. Blotches on the skin may result from a sluggish condition of the digestive organs or from pressure that interferes with the circulation.

G. B. C.—If you remove the excess oil from your skin with a small piece of chamois before you use the powder, it is likely that the powder will not roll up in lumps.

The following recipes for Christmas goodies have been sent to me by generous reader friends, to publish for other women to enjoy:

E. W. B.—"Springley: (The recipe for these little cakes was sent me last year, but arrived too late to be used in time for last Christmas; so I filed it way to publish this December.) Beat together for thirty minutes four eggs and one pound of powdered sugar; then add to the mixture four drops of anise oil and beat for fifteen minutes longer. Now add one even teaspoon of soda dissolved in three tablespoons of hot water and beat for five minutes more. Mold and let stand overnight. In the morning bake in a moderate or slow oven till a light brown."

A Reader—"Candied Cranberries: One-half cup of cranberries, one-half cup of sugar and one-half cup of water. Select firm, red cranberries; wash, dry and then stick them two or three times with a needle. Put the sugar and water into a saucepan and let it boil till a little of it will 'spin a thread' when held in a spoon and dripped back into the kettle. At this stage put the cranberries into the sirup and cook gently until the sirup will jelly when tested from the tip of a spoon (that is, when two drops will form at once on the edge of a spoon). Remove the berries one at a time to waxed paper and let stand in cool air till well dried. Then roll them in granulated sugar and use like candied cherries."

Mrs. E.—"Apple - on - a - Stick: Boil together in a saucepan three-quarters of a pound of butter, three-quarters of a pound of white corn sirup, two pounds of granulated sugar and one pint of water; remove the pan from the fire as soon as a little of this mixture, dropped into cold water, will rattle against the cup when taken out with the finger and tapped on the cup edge (if you use a candy thermometer it will register 300 at this stage). Then add three teaspoons of vanilla and dip the apples into this sirup at once. To do this, spear the apple on the end of a wood peg or hatpin; then, while the sirup is drying on them, wedge the other end of the hatpin or stick into something that will hold it upright (you could put the ends through the wire mesh of an inverted sink drainer to achieve this result). If you lay the apples down while drying, they will, of course, be unevenly coated." Note: This recipe answers a request sent in by "One of Your Many Readers.")

THE MAIN THING ON MAIN STREET

By L. F. van Zelm

Daily Buzz
MAIN STREET'S HUMANE NEWSPAPER

LATEST INVENTION MAKES A GREAT XMAS GIFT

"SMITH'S HUMANE MOUSE TRAP" IS THE LATEST CREATION BY T. EDISON SMITH, MAIN STREET'S BOY INVENTOR.

THIS INVENTION HAS ALREADY GAINED GREAT FAVOR NOT ONLY WITH HUMANE SOCIETIES, BUT ALSO WITH THE MICE.

THERE IS A POPULAR POEM — "'TWAS THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS AND ALL THRU THE HOUSE NOT A CREATURE WAS STIRRING - NOT EVEN A MOUSE" etc.

BUT IN CASE THE MOUSE SHOULD STIR, WE RECOMMEND USING "SMITH'S HUMANE MOUSE TRAP."

WHEN MOUSE ENTERS ROOM, ALL DOORS SHOULD BE CLOSED TIGHTLY. PAPER BAG (A) IS THEN OPENED & PLACED IN CORNER UP CLOSE TO BASE BOARD. STRING (B) IS PLACED LOOSELY AROUND BAG. LADY THEN TAKES POSITION ON PIANO STOOL (C) IN CENTER OF ROOM — and - WITH TOY CAT (D) ON END OF STICK IN LEFT HAND SHE CHASES MOUSE AROUND ROOM (MICE ALWAYS RUN CLOSE TO BASE BOARD) UNTIL IT RUNS INTO BAG. STRING (B) IS THEN PULLED WITH RIGHT HAND THUS CLOSING BAG TIGHT.

IN BAG IS PLACED A PIECE OF CHEEZE & CRACKER SO MOUSE WON'T GET HUNGRY. BAG IS THEN LOWERED OUT OF WINDOW BY STRING — MOUSE GNAWS HIS WAY OUT & IS SO APPRECIATIVE OF THE KIND WAY IN WHICH HE WAS TREATED THAT HE PROMISES NEVER TO BOTHER THE LADY IN THAT HOUSE AGAIN!

TODAY—"Hunting" Blind Pigs in N. Y.; Groups of "Serious Drinkers."

By JACK CARBERRY
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Climb aboard and take a gin jaunt in Gotham.

Now that you are initiated into the "Little Band of Serious Drinkers"—The New York Bootleg Curb and Alley Exchange claims some four million members—here's the way it is done:

"A cocktail, waiter!"

Regret. Apology. The house isn't selling the stuff. Too risky. Not enough profit——

Then you meet a friend.

"Come with me," he tips you off, and back you go to the same cafe where you last met refusal.

"Two pink checks,' the friend says to the hatgirl who takes your "benny." You follow to the back.

A waiter there takes your two pink hat checks. He hands you two blue ones.

Through the door you thought led into the kitchen your friend takes you—and there you find the bar. When you leave you surrender your blue check, get your pink one back again and reclaim the "kelly."

Of course it is silly. Right next door they are selling the same stuff over the bar—the same man runs both places.

"But," the bootlegger confesses, "the public likes to be bunked. The receipts where we make them learn the system double those of where we sell it open."

You go into any office building—well, almost any one.

"Where is there a stock supply agent in this building?' you inquire of the elevator boy.

Key clubs flourish everywhere.

You are a member—you have a key. It lets you in. There is no other introductiton necessary.

But the hokum doesn't stop there.

The stuff sold is of the same brand.

"See, it is real Scotch," the bootlegger informs you, as he rips the boards off a case. The straw-wrapped bottles are damp. Sea-salt can be seen on the packing. "Just got it from the rum fleet this morning."

Maybe he did. But in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred the case in question was manufactured right in New York, fake labels put on and then seasalt sprinkled about.

"Only 800 people died from the stuff in New York this year—that isn't bad," the dealer consoles.

"Forty-umpt floor."

And there on the door is, "Issy So-and-so, Stock Supply Agent."

You enter. A busy office—a typist doing her stuff. A clerk at the desk. Papers scattered everywhere—business must be good.

"I want to purchase some Stock Supplies—think I'll take Gordon," you direct.

You are escorted into another office. There, too, is a paper-strewn desk. You sit down. On the door you notice "Abe Somethingorother—Private." You are Abe if the prohibition agents come in. You are also doing your work at the desk—work of drinking.

And that is hokum, too.

With the Women of Today

By MRS. LILIAN CAMPBELL

Mrs. Caroline Jones, of Rome, Ga., attests the versatility of women in business today. After the death of her husband she took over his large business following and managed his advertising poster plant.

Mrs. Caroline Jones

Miss Margaret D. Reid, of Spartenburg, S. C., also manages a poster plant. Miss Reid's plant was spoken of recently by the national inspector of the Poster Advertising Association as "the perfect poster plant."

A certain Miss Dorothy Moore, wishing to furnish cheaply a few rooms for her own occupancy, bought two dilapidated chairs. She decided to "do them over" herself to save money. Her landlord saw the refinished chairs and half jokingly suggested that as she had been so successful with the chairs, she might paint the halls of the house. Miss Moore, nothing daunted, took the job, did it successfully and was duly paid for it.

Thus did she discover her natural talent for this kind of work. Now, after several years, she has a little shop where she plies the unusual trade—for a woman—of carpenter and cabinet maker. She has become an expert in distinguishing real antiques and in restoring them to their former glory.

Miss Moore was on the stage for a time and also studied sculpture under Lorado Taft. It remained for chance, however, to disclose her real bent, and she has gained considerable recognition and appreciation along a line that is usually reserved for members of the masculine sex alone.

Dr. Orie Latham Hatcher, founder of the Southern Woman's Educational Alliance, declares that according to a recent survey southern girls prefer helpful service to the world to brilliant business careers. "Teaching is first, social service second, among the occupations which the recent graduates of six southern colleges have taken up, she says. "Religious work is fourth on the list, while nursing, medicine and home economics are among the subjects which the girls declare interest them particularly."

Mrs. Parriet Polk, mayor of Colchester, Ill., has succeeded in ridding the town of its worst bootlegger by getting an indictment against him, and also in getting rid of one of the town's prominent officials who was drunk all the time. "The young girls are all in off the street by curfew now, too," she says. Mrs. Polk, who is a small, gray-haired woman with two children of her own, says that "You might call being mayor housekeeping on a larger scale, but it's nothing like the cinch that housekeeping is." She admitted that she is not so sure but that being mayor is a man's job after all. Fifty years from now, she hopes that her children's children will be telling, not how their grandmother was elected mayor of Colchester, but that she drove out the town's worse bootlegger.

"We shall not be rid of wars till a law is written into a universal code saying that wars are unlawful," said Julge Florence E. Allen, of the Ohio supreme court, in a recent address on "Abolition of War." "The killing of men was lawful till a law was made against it," she further said. "We cannot suppress wars in self-defense, but we should suppress aggressive wars."

Among the women who will stand for election in the British parliament are Mrs. Oliver Strachey, Mary Grant, Miss Picton-Turberville, Lady Irene Curzon, Margaret Bonfield and Helen Fraser. Tihs is in addition to Lady Astor and Mrs. Wintringham who stand for re-election.

In a recent bulletin the Women's International league for Peace and Freedom reports that in nine months it has doubled its membership and is now five thousand strong in the United States alone. There are national sections in twenty-one countries.

The American Women's Hospitals have done splendid work in Japan since the disaster. Ten days after the tragedy Dr. Frances A. Houston, of Spokane, Wash., was sent to Tokio with a nurse and ten thousand dollars to help organize medical relief, which could later be continued by the Japanese themselves.

Nearly 100,000 children in Budapest are not being taken care of by their parents, and have to be looked after as well as possible by the police, according to a police report printed in the German press. Tihs is due to the desperate economic situation of the great mass of the Hungarian capital's population, large numbers of whom are said to be out of work, while many of those employed do not earn enough to maintain their families.

Christmas is but a few days away and there is but little time left to shop. It's surprising how many desirable gifts may be found in Glendale stores if one looks and the prices generally speaking are considerably less than in Los Angeles.

For weeks he had been ill in the hospital. With the beginning of convalescence he called loudly for food, declaring he was being starved.

"The doctor says you may have something tomorrow," said the nurse soothingly.

On the morrow she entered and announced:

"Here's your dinner." And she gave him a spoonful of tapioca, adding, "The doctor says that everything else you do must be in the same proportion."

"Nurse," he gasped, "I want to do some reading now; please bring me a postage stamp."—Everybody's.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— By Howard R. Garis —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND BETTY'S BALL

Betty Ringtail, the little raccoon girl, walked daintily down to the edge of the pond, found a place that hadn't been frozen over by Jack Frost and in the water carefully washed a bit of fish her mother had given her for lunch. Betty washed the piece of fish and scrubbed it and washed it again. Raccoons always do this to their food except, perhaps, some kinds, like green corn. Raccoons are very clean animals.

After she washed her bit of fish, Betty ate it and then she slowly walked back to the house where she lived with her brother Bobby. Betty climbed up the tree in the top of which was her home.

"Oh, dear!" sighed Betty Ringtail.

"What's the matter?" asked her mother. "Wasn't that a fine piece of fish I gave you, Betty? I hope you didn't forget to clean it in the pond before you ate it."

"Oh, I cleaned it well, Mother," answered Betty. "But, oh, dear!"

"Whatever is the matter?" asked Mrs. Ringtail. "Aren't you happy."

"Yes, I am, kinder happy," sighed Betty. "But I'm afraid Uncle Wiggily isn't happy!"

"Why shouldn't he be happy?" asked her mother. "He is a dear old rabbit gentleman. True, he has rheumatism pains now and then, but his pink nose twinkles most delightfully! He ought to be happy."

"I'm afraid he won't be happy 'cause I didn't lend him any of my toys," went on Betty.

"Lend Uncle Wiggily toys—what do you mean?" asked Mrs. Ringtail.

"Well," said Betty, "you know it's almost Christmas and Uncle Wiggily is a great friend to Santa Claus. And Peetie Bow Wow let Uncle Wiggily take some roller skates and Billie Wagtail lent him a pair of stilts and Nannie and Baby Bunty took Uncle Wiggily a coaster wagon. Uncle Wiggily is going to remember them all at Christmas and I'm afraid he'll forget me if I don't let him take something of mine."

"Why don't you lend Uncle Wiggily your bouncing rubber ball?" asked Mrs. Ringtail. She said it more for fun than for any other reason, not thinking Betty would do it. But to her mother's surprise, the little raccoon girl clapped her paws (which were almost like hands) and exclaimed:

"Oh the very thing! I'll take Uncle Wiggily my rubber ball and then he won't forget to tell Santa Claus about me for Christmas."

"Of course, you shouldn't lend things or do favors, just to have favors done you in return, Betty," said her mother.

"I know, Mother, dear," answered Betty. "But, all the same, if Uncle Wiggily likes to play with my rubber ball and he does happen to see Santa Claus, and if—now—if—"

"Oh, run along with you!" laughed Mrs. Ringtail, and Betty ran along to get her rubber ball out of the play closet where the toys were put away after she and her brother Bobby had finished using them.

Betty's rubber ball was a large one, and it had a little hole in for the squeak to come out. And sometimes water squirted out of the rubber ball, for Betty was fond of playing in the water. Once she squirted some water from her rubber ball on her brother—but that is another adventure, not to be told of here.

Holding her rubber ball in her little paw, which was like a hand, Betty ran over to Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow. Betty's tail with its rings of light colored fur mingled with the black, went along after her. It was because of the rings on her tail that Betty was named Ringtail.

"Why, hello, Betty!" greeted Uncle Wiggily, as he saw the little raccoon girl. "And what have you in your paw?" he asked.

"I brought you—I mean—now—I'm going to lend you my rubber ball to play with," said Betty, who was just a little bashful. "You can bounce my rubber ball on the floor and have fun."

"Oh, thank you!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "Let me see now—how many days until Christmas, Betty?"

"It's just eleven days, counting today," quickly answered the little raccoon girl, and she wondered why Uncle Wiggily laughed.

The bunny gentleman bounced the ball on the floor. It flew up, hitting him on his pink, twinkling nose.

"Ouch!" cried the bunny.

"You will say Ouch! once and twice and three times in a minute," suddenly cried a savage voice, and into the bungalow popped the Weasel. "You will say 'Ouch'! three times when I nibble your ears!" cried the Weasel.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! Give me my rubber ball!" suddenly said Betty.

"Yes, Betty, you had better take your ball and run home before the Weasel nibbles you," sadly said the bunny gentleman.

Betty took her ball, but she didn't run home. Instead she filled the ball with water at the sink and then, running back into the room, just as the Weasel was going to nibble Uncle Wiggily, Betty squirted a bit of water in the Weasel's face.

"Run away from here and don't nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears!" cried the brave little raccoon girl, and she squirted more water.

"Oh, flub dub!" howled the Weasel, and then the water got in his eyes and nose and mouth and he talked as though he had a cold in his head. Then out of the bungalow he ran, howling, "Wow! Wow! Wow!"

"Betty, you are a brave little raccoon girl and I shall surely remember you at Christmas," said the bunny gentleman. Then the water was squirted out of the ball into the sink and Uncle Wiggily bounced it—I mean he bounced the ball, not the sink, of course.

And if the lead pencil doesn't bounce up and down on the end of its rubber and make believe it's dancing with the sheet of paper, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Aunt Lettie's pin.

Europe Says Autos Sold on Installments

Florence leaves at 6:45 a. m., too early for us, so we took a local at 9:50 and had a long trip of ten and a half hours, with two changes of cars at Ferrara, and the large city of Bologna. From the latter place, the route is through the mountains, and we got into a regular old-fashioned snow storm all afternoon. It surely did remind us of the long ago. These touches of winter are all right for a short time, and when we can stay in a warm train or hotel, but they are mighty unpleasant when you have to get out where there is no heat.

Leaves Snow

"When we reached here about 8:30 o'clock, of course, we had left all snow behind, but it had been raining and was very chilly, especially to the wife. We are glad that our way lies still southward.

"We are at a private hotel or 'pension,' patronized largely by Americans, several of whom are now here. We expect to be here till Monday or Tuesday, before going on to Rome for the rest of the week. And there lies the mail! You don't know how good it sounds. From Rome to Naples, whence we embark for Egypt about the 7th, probably. We are a little behind schedule, but expect to reach Palestine for Christmas."

Another Kirk letter will appear shortly in The Glendale Evening News.

AUTO STRIKES BABY

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21.—Two year old Wilbert Ellsworth Shaver received serious injuries late yesterday, when the baby carriage in which he was riding, was run down by an automobile operated by Ricardo Quirros, according to the sheriff's office. As Quirros, who was teaching a woman how to drive the machine, reached a street intersection in Belvedere, several children are said to have pushed the baby carriage into the street.

Lomita Park Once Noted Actor Colony

field did that day.

Mr. Duffield was a very genial man and had many interesting and amusing experiences in his stage life to relate.

Two of his stories, with the joke on himself, he related at the Red Cross headquarters during the World War, while waiting for Mrs. Duffield, who was secretary of the Glendale chapter.

Relates Jokes

One was of an incident which occurred early in his career while on the stage of a New York theatre, when in one of the melodramas of that period he was acting the part of a boy who with his mother and sister were starving in a garret. At last, the boy, unable to endure the sufferings of his dear ones, rushed to the street and, meeting a sympathetic stranger, told his tale and, with his new found friend, hastened back to the rescue of mother and sister.

The actor, playing the part of the friend, kept up a running murmured comment trying to disconcert the young actor, so that on arriving at the door of the garret, when he should have exclaimed on knocking and receiving no answer, "Great heavens, they have committed suicide." But with the impish suggestion of his fellow actor in his ear, in the silence following his vigorous knock, he turned to the new-found friend and exclaimed in agonizing tones, "Great heavens, they have committed susan side."

It is needless to say that the audience howled, and so terrified was young Duffield that the stage manager had to reach through the wings and drag him off by the collar.

Tongue Twister

While playing in the old Burbank stock company on Main street, Los Angeles, some years ago, Mr. Duffield had the part of the New England tavernkeeper in "David Harum." In taking this part in which the writer saw Mr. Duffield, he was to announce, true to New England traditions, that he had "seven kinds of pie for breakfast"; but, to his sorrow, his tongue refused to master this twister, and he informed his customer that he had "seven pines of kie for breakfast." A giggle in the wings, and he informed the audience that he had "seven kies of pines." Although he managed at last, by great effort, to control his tongue, ever after during the run of the play he approached that sentence with fear and trembling, and the members of the cast gathered at each performance to see the fun.

Soon after the war Mr. and Mrs. Duffield removed to Los Angeles, where Mr. Duffield died within a short time after.

Schools Are Forced To Collect Taxes

entertainment becomes liable and subject to the fines and penalties imposed by law for failure to collect tax.

"It is my belief that the majority of schools and organizations which are entitled, under the law, to exemption upon the collection of admission tax, and which fail to make the necessary affidavit and receive permission to omit the collection of such tax, do so because of misunderstanding of the requirements of the act, and not because of willful intention to evade the requirements," said the collector. "It can not be too strongly urged that principals of schools and heads of organizations who contemplate giving entertainments, the proceeds of admissions to which inure exclusively to organizations entitled to exemption, inform themselves of the provisions, as it is not my wish to collect penalties and fines in such cases. I want to emphasize the fact, however, that exemption may not be assumed nor taken for granted; it must be secured in every case before tickets are sold without collecting tax."

Rejoicing Is Short Lived
San Francisco Hard Loser
Grouch From Los Angeles
Too Serious Over Marking

By Gil A. Cowan

Long Beach may have had some satisfaction in defeating the Glendale Union High school football eleven in the playoff for the championship of Southern Californit, but it was a short-lived honor.

Another week and another game and the Bakersfield boys took the coveted cup of victory from the beach battlers and they in turn will have Lick-Wilmerding in the north to contend with.

So it's all a game in which a victory usually is but temporary and a defeat is to be expected. We cannot all be winners, but all can be good losers. Indeed, a hard loser has no place in the game of life.

San Francisco, to our mind, is a city that is one of the "hard loser" types. For one month the building total of Los Angeles slipped behind a comparative period in the year before.

And my how the San Francisco newspapers chortled in glee and heralded the "sad news" for Southern California. Actually, it seemed as though San Francisco and its people were happy over the fact that they had something to "hammer the Angels" with.

At any rate, it was a great display of sportsmanship, we should say not! Again, it might be evening an old score, who knows?

However, we are inclined to believe the people of the northern and central sections of the state have reason to think things not so good when they hear certain remarks by residents of the Southland.

In Fresno the other evening a crabid gentleman, purporting to come from Los Angeles, announced in a public dining room of the city's best cafe that he didn't care to see the local papers. He had been used to reading Los Angeles papers and there was "nothing in the California papers," etc.

For anyone who knows newspapers that was all "hot air," said with the vilifying intention of "knocking" the rest of the state on the home grounds, so to speak, and at the same time vaingloriously announcing that this particular specimen of humanity was from Los Angeles. We doubt that he had lived there long.

Another trait some Southern Californians have who come from Glendale, to be perfectly frank in our criticism, is to register from Los Angeles.

Why not let the world know you come from Glendale when you are away from home? It will enable you to hark to everything said about Los Angeles without losing your temper.

At the same time, you can speak a good word for Southern California and not be called a member of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

In other words, be a good sport. And you will find the world is made up principally of people who like to be the same if they are given the opportunity.

The other day we noted a little paragraph in the editorial columns of a newspaper regarding the advice given in the telephone book.

No need of copying what the book says, but let us commend your reading the page or two of hints given the customer (without toll charge) by the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company in their publications.

If you follow the advice there is no question but what service will be 50 per cent more efficient.

Under the caption "Building the Foundation," The Hollywood Citizen says:

The suicide of a high school boy for the apparent reason that he was falling behind in his grades brings home to us again the fact that we grown-ups can over-emphasize in the minds of youth the value of marks received in school work.

Report cards may or may not give the true indication regarding a young person's ability or character.

Sometimes they may reveal that the youth is neglecting his work and sometimes they may reveal that his guidance isn't just right.

And if the guidance isn't right we grown-ups should shoulder the responsibility and not place it upon the youth.

Getting the education and the preparation for after life is the big thing and sometimes the marks may show this and sometimes they may not.

The writer has intimate knowledge of a man who went through school and college concentrating upon getting good marks.

He got them. They would have brought joy to the parent who believed that the mark was the whole thing.

But the college graduate found when he got into business that the marks were about all that he had got.

He had studied for marks and not for learning.

He had no grammar and less knowledge of other things than he found were expected of an educated man.

He had his learning to acquire after he quit his schooling.

The big thing, it seems to us, to impress upon youth is that school days are a preparation for the after-life, the laying of the foundation upon which is built the future business, profession and worth-while achievements.

By faithful devotion to the matters at hand and the seizing of the opportunities placed before them the girl or the boy builds that foundation with a firmness and a strength that will stand all the attacks of this life.

By neglect of duties and opportunities, weak spots develop in that foundation that later give trouble and at times menace the soundness and security of the superstructure.

As marks indicate the seriousness of purpose we want them, but the real thing we are after is learning and manhood and womanhood building knowledge.

Pasadena Plans Birthday Party

grand esteemed leading knight of the B. P. O. E., announces that James G. McFarland, grand exalted ruler of the Elks, will be the guest of the tournament, giving a sterling cup to one of the eighteen floral entries offered by Elkdom of Southern California cities, in his honor.

Cities Enter Floats

Santa Monica, Long Beach, Glendale, Ontario, Pomona, Redlands and a dozen other neighbor cities will vie for the heavy sterling cup, put up by Pasadena Chamber of Commerce and Civic association, for the two most beautiful entries in the parade. This year there are early indications that novel and startling designs will be seen, departing from old standards of floral decoration in every way, and gardens all over the Southland are commandeered to the last blossom to enrich the charming scene.

Interest centers in the Historical Pageant of Pasadena, which, with its twenty floats, will occupy a solid division in the center of the line of march. Miss Sybil Jones, who suggested this beautiful commemoration of Pasadena's jubilee year, states that all the principal episodes from California's glittering page of history will be faithfully and beautifully depicted.

The tournament ball at the Maryland, New Year's night, will fittingly close what will undoubtedly prove the greatest floral festival seen in America.

The STANDARD OIL COMPANY announces a NEW OIL for FORD CARS

For six years our research laboratories have been experimenting with Ford Lubrication. The result is now ready. It is Zerolene "F" for Fords—a clear, bright golden oil, good to look at as it comes from the container, and good on the job.

The first and most essential requirement of a Ford lubricant is that it get to the parts requiring lubrication—especially the wrist-pin bearings and the upper cylinder walls that frequently are "oil-starved."

We believe that Zerolene "F" for Fords meets this requirement better than any oil yet offered to the Ford owner. It will penetrate to every part of your Ford needing lubrication and lubricate it perfectly. Its use will result in greater gasoline mileage, freedom from valve-sticking, fewer carbon-removal operations, and a general reduction of all your up-keep costs. Because it reduces friction and wear to a minimum, it will prolong the life of your Ford.

We have proved these claims to our own satisfaction by extensive tests in our laboratory and on the road. We urge you to prove them for yourself by cleaning out your crankcase and refilling with Zerolene "F" for Fords—the last word in Ford lubrication, now offered to the public at Standard Oil Service Stations, garages and at other dealers. Zerolene "F" for Fords is not an expensive oil. It costs not more, but less than any of the special Ford oils now on the market.

A Ford, well treated, is an A-1 transportation investment. Protect YOUR investment by proper lubrication.
